JEM TERRORIST KILLED IN J-K ENCOUNTER

A terrorist of Pakistan-based Jaish-e-Mohammad (JeM) outfit was killed in an encounter with security forces on Thursday, while three of his associates remained trapped in a forested area in Jammu and Kashmir's Udhampur district. The group of four terrorists was being tracked for a year. They were confronted by a joint search party of the army and police in the remote Bihali area of Basantgarh in the morning, officials said | P12

IRAN DELIVERED A SLAP ON US' FACE, SAYS KHAMENEI

In his first comments since a ceasefire with Israel after 12 days of war, Ayatollah Khamenei on Thursday warned US against further attacks. Khamenei spoke in a recorded video broadcast on Iranian state television, his first appearance since June 19. Khamenei's threats were preceded by IAEA director Rafael Grossi saying US attacks on Iran had largely destroyed its nuclear facilities | P14

Rajnath refuses to sign draft SCO joint statement

Pak blocked inclusion of Pahalgam, mention of cross-border terror attacks in document

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

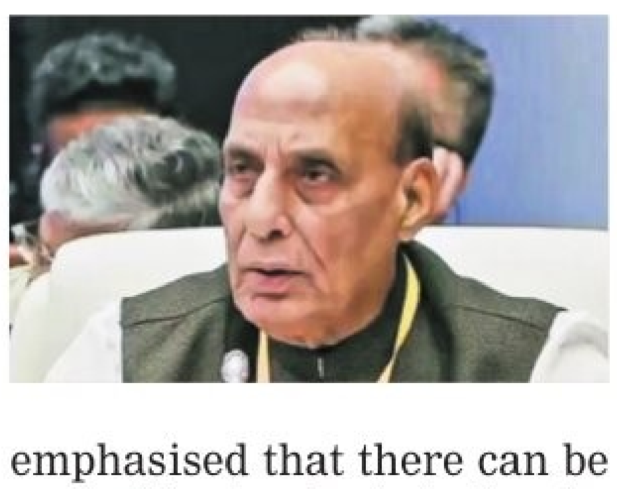
INDIA on Thursday declined to sign a joint declaration at the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) Defence Ministers' meeting in Qingdao, China, as it failed to address the country's concerns on terror.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, who represented the country at the meet, sought the inclusion of explicit language condemning terror, particularly cross-border terrorism. However, the proposal was blocked by "one particular country," Pakistan. Also, there was no mention of the recent Pahalgam terror attack in the draft.

Sources said Pakistan wanted to include Balochistan in the joint statement, which was not acceptable to India.

As the draft failed to address India's core concerns, Rajnath refused to put India's name on the document.

In his address, Rajnath called on all SCO members to unite in combating terrorism in all its forms and manifestations. He reiterated that the perpetrators, organisers, financers and sponsors of terrorism, including cross-border terrorism, need to be held accountable and brought to justice. He emphasised that there can be no double standards in the global fight against terror.



"I understand that the defence ministers could not adopt a joint statement. Certain member countries could not reach consensus on specific issues, and hence the document could not be finalised. India wanted concerns on terrorism to be reflected in the statement, which was not acceptable to one particular country," said Randhir Jaiswal, spokesperson at the Ministry of External Affairs.

Rajnath mentioned Operation Sindoor and asserted that it was launched in response to the heinous terror attack in Pahalgam. "During the Pahalgam terror attack, 26 people were shot dead after they were profiled on religious identity. The Resistance Front, a proxy of UN-designated terror group Lashkar-e-Taiba claimed responsibility for the attack."

COMING UP, STATES' WATER TAX TO REDUCE WASTAGE FOR FARM USE

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

TO reduce wastage and misuse of groundwater, the Union government now plans to impose a tax on water usage for agricultural purposes.

In collaboration with state governments, the Union government will soon launch 22 pilot projects across different states. Under this initiative, farmers will receive sufficient water and would be taxed based on its usage.

"We are in the process of finalising pilot projects," said C R Patil, Union Minister for Jal Shakti. "These will provide adequate water at a central location with enough pressure so that different farmers can utilize it according to their needs. Users will be taxed based on the quantity of water they consume," he explained.

According to the Annual Groundwater Extraction report, the farm sector accounts for 87% of 239.16 billion cubic meters (BCM) of water extracted. Indiscriminate extraction has led to severe depletion of groundwater.

The Centre has allocated ₹1,600 crore for this scheme. States would determine the tax. "It is essential to prevent misuse. Local water user associations, rather than the state, should levy taxes to control water wastage," said Ashok K Meena, additional secretary, Dept of Drinking Water and Sanitation.

GANGA WATER TREATY

On the Ganga Water Treaty, which is set to expire next year, C R Patil said a decision would be made in the country's best interest, as it is an international treaty. "The political situation in Bangladesh is not conducive to discussing another river treaty"

(L) ISS crew greet Shubhanshu Shukla (C) and other astronauts after docking of their spacecraft; Screengrab of docking | PTI

AT 5.54 pm IST on Thursday, India's Group Captain Shubhanshu Shukla (call sign 'Shux'), mission pilot on Axiom-4 (Ax-4), became the first Indian astronaut to enter the International Space Station (ISS) after the mission's DragonX spacecraft, named Grace, docked with the space laboratory at 4.01 pm IST, 29 minutes ahead of schedule.

Immediately on docking, the mission commander Peggy Whitson of the USA, who is a former NASA astronaut and current director of Axiom Space (human space flight), sent a message to Mission Control Huston ground station and to the 11-astronaut team already on the ISS, "Grace happy to be on Harmony" – Harmony being the module on the ISS which provides international docking adapters on its space-facing and forward ports for commercial crew vehicles, like Grace. Shukla was the second to enter the ISS after Peggy.

The entire docking exercise, in slow capture mode, was completed autonomously by Grace, with mission pilot Shukla's services required only if any maneuvering glitches had occurred.

All the four Ax-4 mission crew astronauts, including Ax-4 mission specialists Stawosz Uznanski-Wisniewski from Poland and Tibor Kapu from Hungary, were warmly greeted with hugs and cheers by Japan Aerospace Exploration Agency (JAXA) and Roscosmos (Russian Space Agency) astronauts already aboard the ISS.

BBMP SCRUBS GARBAGE SPOTS, SEEKS HELP TO KEEP CITY NEAT

Black spots down from 2,080 to 400 in less than a year

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike's (BBMP) Solid Waste Management (SWM) wing, Bengaluru Solid Waste Management Company Limited (BSWML), has pulled off a 'Houdini Act' in terms of dealing with garbage blackspots by reducing 2,080 such spots to 400 in less than a year.

With its intensive drive on Saturdays since June 14 in each BBMP Ward, the Palike aims to clear waste and beautify the area with art on walls, placing saplings and pots.

Over the last two weeks, 396 black spots have been removed. The officials, however, expressed disappointment with citizens for showing a lackadaisical attitude as some still come during the night or early morning hours and dump animal waste and garbage.

Speaking about the issue and initiative, Chief Marshal Officer, Colonel Rajbir Singh (retired), said, "On June 14 and June 21, the BBMP officials from BSWML, BBMP marshals and volunteers cleared waste, painted the walls and cleaned the surroundings from all 198 BBMP wards. This cleaning program is part of 'Swachh Bengaluru' initiative. The drive will continue during weekends and such blackspots will be fixed," he said.

Though hundreds of garbage black spots have been cleared, a few, like the one on Babusapalya Main Road, are still is yet to get a makeover | ALLEN EGENUSE J

He also stated that the BWSML's biggest challenge in dealing with waste management is people's attitude and stated that due to floating populations, the waste is littered.

"Animal waste sometimes is not lifted daily, people fail to hand over waste to pourakarmikas who come to their doorstep and also many commercial establishments litter the streets corners or junctions and turn the same into blackspots," said Singh.

The BBMP deploys marshals and BSWML teams during morning and night hours to catch hold of the violators who throw garbage and dirty the places and impose penalties against them to discipline them.

Chief Engineer of Dasarahalli Zone and former head of BSWML, Basavaraj Kabade, said there are 42 such blackspots in his Zone and 8 have been fixed on June 21 and stated that the blackspot at 3rd Phase, 11th Main Road Peenya Industrial Layout was the biggest garbage blackspot and after clearing the waste, the Warli artwork was done on the walls and tree saplings were planted.

"The teams have been directed to patrol during early morning and night hours and impose penalties," said Kabade.

TIPSY DRIVERS

Schools strengthen bus safety measures

GAYATHRI M KURUP @Bengaluru

TIPSY school bus drivers are a major worry for parents as well as school managements. During a recent check carried out by traffic police, the cops found 58 school bus drivers driving under the influence of alcohol.

The school authorities are now re-evaluating the safety measures in place. "If 58 drivers were caught, imagine how many lives would be at stake. Each bus has approximately 30 kids, and that means an average of 1,740 students' lives are at risk if they are studying in Bengaluru," said Deepak Kumar, a father.

While some schools have assured that their transport systems are closely monitored, others admitted the need to tighten protocols, especially when services are outsourced.

"We directly hire our drivers after verifying their qualifications, and we hold regular meetings to remind them of their responsibilities and the safety protocols they must follow," says Robert Khin, Principal, Bethany School, Koramangala. "We also conduct alcohol checks once a week, usually after weekends, to catch any possible hangovers using our in-house testing machine. We always tell them it's okay to be late, but they should never rush or speed," he adds.

"Drivers are trained according to student safety procedures and are selected only after a detailed background check, including a police verification letter for hiring them," says S Aisha, Principal, Ryan International Academy, Horamavu. "Moreover, we make sure that all vehicles used for student transport are registered in the school's name, not under any private operator," she adds.

Along with these measures, schools have also implemented CCTV cameras and GPS tracking to monitor the buses. "To strengthen our student security, the buses are now equipped with cameras and GPS devices for real-time monitoring," says Sonia Ghai, Principal, Geetanjali Olympiad School, Kaverappa Layout.

"Although we were practicing these safety measures for a long time, we have become more conscious and strict about them after the incident. We have three cameras installed in the buses--one for the driver's view, one for monitoring the children, and the third, to keep an eye on the external view. We also have a speed governor installed in the buses so that drivers can't exceed a specific speed," says Siny Gopinath, Principal, Orchids The International High School, Mysore Road. "Moreover, we have a transport in-charge who monitors the bus drivers. He records the timings, checks on the drivers, and ensures all safety measures are in place, with emergency contact numbers of nearby hospitals and police stations displayed inside the bus," she adds.

Schools have also started to provide direct communication systems with parents. "Our transport coordinators and drivers stay in constant touch with the school administration, and parents are immediately informed about any delays or emergencies through SMS or app alerts," said S Aisha.

RGUHS to set up skill labs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO enhance clinical training through simulation-based learning, Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences (RGUHS) will establish state-of-the-art skill labs at key locations across Karnataka, including at the university's campus in Bengaluru. Additionally, the university plans to set up constituent colleges in four locations, which will function as model institutions for medical and allied health education.

Announcing this during the university's 30th Foundation Day on Thursday, Vice-Chancellor Dr Bhagavan BC said the new initiatives are part of a broader push to expand RGUHS' academic footprint and strengthen healthcare education across the state. "These labs will serve as centralised training hubs for competency development, promoting patient safety, clinical excellence, and practical proficiency," he said, adding that the proposed colleges will be directly administered by the university to ensure uniform standards and innovation in teaching.

The permanent campus, nearing completion, will soon house the RGUHS administrative block. The university has sought the transfer of 180 acres from the Directorate of Medical Education (DME) for further development.

New Metro feeder route from Mys Road Bus Stand

The Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) announced the launch of a new non-AC Metro feeder bus service, Route No. 180-A, starting June 27. The route will run between Kaval Byrasandra and Mysuru Road Bus Stand, covering key areas such as Mehkri Circle, Yeshwanthpur, Rajajinagar, Vijayanagar, and Attiguppe. Six buses will be deployed, running multiple trips through the day. The first departure from Kaval Byrasandra is scheduled for 4.45 am, with services running at regular intervals until 8.15 pm. From Mysuru Road Bus Stand, the earliest trip departs at 5.50 am, with the last service at 9.30 pm. BMTC said the service aims to offer reliable, comfortable, and affordable transport. ENS

ASHA workers protest for census allowances

Hundreds of Accredited Social Health Activists (ASHA) engaged in the Scheduled Castes census being conducted by the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) staged a protest at Freedom Park here on Thursday, seeking immediate release of allowances. The protest was organised by the BBMP committee of the Karnataka Rajya Samyukta ASHA Workers' Association. The protesters alleged that they are forced to conduct the census work without being paid the promised allowances. They demanded that the incentives for their earlier assignments be released immediately. The workers threatened to intensify their protest if their demands are not met. ENS

Once heaven for cinematography, GFTI now sees over 80% vacancies

RISHITA KHANNA @Bengaluru

DESPITE being one of the oldest film institutes in the country, the Government Film and Television Institute (GFTI) is seeing a fall with only six of the 33 seats in cinematography — a course the institute was once known for — have been filled in 2024-25 academic year. In sound recording and engineering, 94% seats remain vacant with just one of 17 seats being taken.

In response, the Higher Education Department is now working on a complete overhaul of the institute. The department is planning to shift the campus from Hesaraghatta to a more accessible location, possibly Sree Kanteerava Studio, and introduce new courses that are better aligned with changes in the film industry.

The proposal follows after senior Kannada actor Srinath and a group of alumni met Higher Education Minister Dr MC Sudhakar on Thursday and urged the State Government to take steps to revive the institute.

Data from the last five years shows a consistent pattern of vacant seats, with at least 10 seats going unfilled - often more, each year in cinematography. The vacant seats were alarmingly high in some years - 26 in 2020-2021; 15 in 2021-22; and highest in 2024-25 with 27 vacancies.

A similar trend was seen in the sound recording and engineering course, which mostly reported 11 to 16 vacancies.

During the meeting, actor Srinath and others pointed out that while the students are interested, the current infrastructure is inadequate, and its location is a major barrier.

Officials from the Department of Collegiate and Technical Education also believe that apart from the location, courses offered by the institute are outdated. "With only cinematography and sound recording and engineering, the institute has not kept up with the current landscape of film industry, which demand skills in editing, VFX, animation, digital filmmaking and OTT content creation," an official told The New Indian Express, adding that currently, industry is heavily in post-production formats and students are also looking for institutes that offer specialisations.

"In Bengaluru itself, several long-standing single-screen theatres have shut down in recent years due to declining footfall and the growing dominance of OTT platforms because viewing habits are changing and the industry is turning towards digital content, hence the demand for traditional filmmaking has also evolved," the official added.

The minister assured them that he would soon visit the Hesaraghatta campus, inspect the facilities, and hold discussions to initiate necessary steps. He said the relocation proposal will be discussed with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and that reopening the institute at Sree Kanteerava Studio is one of the options being considered.

PETER VIDAL

27TH June : Venus, planet of love and affection, is connecting with sober, serious, Saturn. If there's a message for the current moment, it's that traditional values count for most in relationships. If you are a free spirit, reluctant to be tied down and scornful of convention, then you might have to keep a low profile for a few weeks!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Today's rather special Moon figures high in your list of planetary priorities, raising the temperature at work and in any legal questions. It also stimulates your creative energies. The most important consideration is to know your rights and stand up for yourself.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Personal projects which once looked fraught with difficulty and beset by obstacles, now seem to be strangely free from problems. The only remaining complications could be financial, though with excellent chances of improvement. It all depends on your sense of timing.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Everything now hinges around your ability to get on with other people. Indeed, it seems as if they have the whip hand, so your best chance may be to agree with their every word, and accept that it can be pleasant to allow others to take the initiative. Your turn will come very soon.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
By all accounts you will have little time left over after completing all those steadily increasing tasks and duties. You'll be burning the candle at both ends, but you'll be no use to anyone if you overdo it, least of all to yourself. Take it one step at a time.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Financial extravagance is the key today, and the ripples arising from current risks and commitments will be felt for at least two weeks, if not twelve months. Sporting types should be on course for triumphs and trophies, so aim to improve on your personal best.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
This is a remarkable moment for improvements in family relationships and welcome changes in all domestic conditions. Accept that an element of uncertainty is inevitable, but don't let that put you off. After all, someone who has disagreed with you will soon see the error of their ways.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Your nomadic qualities are being stirred up. Short journeys are likely to be made on the basis of family needs, rather than pleasure, but there is bound to be stimulation for you in encountering new places and environments. The more you travel, the richer your experience will be.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You appear to be locked into a set of financial attitudes and commitments that no longer suit your requirements or talents. Other people must now make it clear that they back you to the hilt, otherwise there is no reason why you should continue to do your best for them.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Today's lunar alignments influence all that is most special to you, arousing hope for the future. Don't worry if your ideas are still unclear, but recognise that prestige and professional projects are about to take off. All they need is one last almighty push.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There is so much going on behind the scenes that you might feel as if you are to be sucked in to something that is only half-understood. You may wish to distance yourself from people who are unnecessarily aggressive. If they are intent on confrontation, then that is their business - and nothing to do with you!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You need more credit - and partners may not deserve as much sympathy as you have given them. However, you could have little choice in the matter, and you will almost certainly be obliged to listen to their complaints. You never know - you may even come out with the advice they've been waiting for.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may have to choose between two simple options - partnership or career, love or work. So much hope seems to be tempered by seemingly impossible choices. Sit this one out if you wish, in spite of the pressure to act. You should never let other people push you into action before you're ready.

Dayananda gives statement on stampede case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

Senior IPS officer and former city police commissioner B Dayananda, who was suspended in connection with the M Chinnaswamy Stadium stampede during the Royal Challengers Bengaluru (RCB) victory celebrations on June 4 that claimed 11 lives, appeared on Thursday before Bengaluru Urban Deputy Commissioner Jagadeesh G, who is conducting a magisterial probe into the incident.

The ADGP-rank officer reportedly recorded his statement for over an hour, giving a detailed account of the events that unfolded on the fateful day, the security arrangements made by the police, and the possible causes of the stampede. He was also questioned about the permissions sought by the RCB management, the Karnataka State Cricket Association (KSCA), and DNA, the event management firm, as well as internal communication within the police department and with the state government.

Meanwhile, the District Magistrate has urged eyewitnesses and the public to come forward with any information related to the stampede incident. People with relevant details, photographs, videos, or firsthand accounts have been asked to appear in person and record their statements at the District Magistrate's court hall in the DC's office on KG Road on June 27 at 11 am. Those appearing are requested to bring two certified copies of their written affidavits. Authorities have assured confidentiality and stressed the importance of public cooperation in the ongoing investigation.

The inquiry report is expected to be submitted by the end of this week or early next week.

HC OKs trial against man for blackmailing partner

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ABETMENT TO SUICIDE

IF capturing nude pictures of the deceased woman and blackmailing her is proved, it can undoubtedly become abetment to suicide, the Karnataka High Court said, refusing to quash criminal proceedings against a 28-year-old man from Mandya for abetting the suicide of a woman, with whom he was in a live-in relationship. He had used her nude pictures to extort over Rs 50 lakh.

Justice M Nagaprasanna made these observations while rejecting the petition filed by Varun GA, challenging the chargesheet and proceedings pending before the Anekal trial court, under the provisions of 306 IPC and Sections 66(E) and 67(A) of the Information Technology Act.

According to the complaint registered by the victim's father with Hebbagodi police station, his daughter and the accused were classmates in an engineering college in Mandya. His daughter began working with a firm in Bengaluru, and she and Varun were in a relationship for three years. There were assurances of marriage and also financial transactions between them. On December 28, 2023, the woman ended her life by jumping from the sixth floor of her apartment.

A senior counsel representing the petitioner argued that there is a plethora of judgments by the apex court that utterance of the words "go and die" would not become abetment to suicide.

Drawing the attention of the court to the chargesheet, statements and FSL report of pictures found in the mobiles of the petitioner and victim, Additional State Public Prosecutor BN Jagadeesha contended that if it is a simple case of uttering 'go and die', there would be no case for the prosecution. The last fight between the petitioner and woman had led to her suicide. The pictures the petitioner had captured on his phone are horrendous and holding those, he had threatened and extorted almost Rs 51 lakh through credit card for his business, he argued.

The court said the petitioner's laptop and mobile phone are full of pictures and videos of the deceased and petitioner, taken during their live-in relationship. The plea that it's a case of mere scorned affection or a casual taunt cannot be countenanced when placed against the backdrop of deliberate humiliation and alleged extortion.

HC GRANTS RELIEF TO HEGDE AND 2 OTHERS

Bengaluru: The Karnataka High Court on Thursday directed the police not to arrest former Union minister Anantkumar Hegde and two others in connection with a road rage incident in Hale Nijagal, near Dabaspet on the outskirts of the city. Justice S R Krishna Kumar passed the interim order after hearing a petition filed by Hegde, Shashidhar Biddappa Tegginavar, and Mahesh Raju Shetty, challenging the FIR filed by Dabaspet police based on a complaint by one Saif Khan. Issuing notices to the police and the complainant, the court directed that no coercive or precipitative action, including arrest, be taken against the petitioners until July 30. However, it clarified that the police are free to proceed with the investigation, and the petitioners must cooperate.

Bizman robbed of ₹2 cr during crypto transaction

RAKSHITH GOWDA @Bengaluru

A 33-year-old businessman from Kengeri was robbed of Rs 2 crore in cash by six unidentified armed men during a cryptocurrency transaction in a commercial building at M S Palya on Wednesday afternoon.

The victim, Shree Harsha V, was attempting to convert the cash into USDT (a cryptocurrency) when the assailants barged into the premises, threatened everybody with knives, and fled with the money and four mobile phones after locking them inside.

According to the FIR, Harsha had borrowed the money from friends to import equipment for a proposed cold-pressed oil business. He had approached acquaintances Prakash Agarwal and Rakshith, who introduced him to a man named Benjamin. The transaction was arranged at a store in the complex, where Benjamin and his associates began counting the cash.

Around 4 pm, an hour after they gathered to count the money, six armed men entered and committed the robbery. Benjamin and his team also fled shortly after. Harsha has named Benjamin, Rakshith, and others as suspects regarding the robbery. Police are investgating possible hawala links and have registered a case under Section 310(2) of the BNS. A manhunt is underway to trace the accused.

Couple's fight over breakfast ends in murder

Bengaluru: A domestic dispute between an elderly couple over breakfast turned violent, resulting in the wife's murder. The incident took place in Mathikere village of Magadi taluk, in Bengaluru South district (Ramanagara) on Thursday morning. Magadi police arrested the accused, who was on the run. The deceased was identified as Thimmamma (65), a homemaker, and the accused as her husband Rangayya (75). According to the police, the couple got into a heated argument over breakfast. In a fit of rage, Rangayya allegedly assaulted his wife with a coconut grater, killing her on the spot, and neighbours alerted the police soon. Rangayya attempted to flee to Tirupati, but was nabbed by police on a bus near Ramanagara before he could escape.

3 held for stealing 58 kg gold in Vijayapura

Vijayapura: Three people have been arrested in connection with the theft of 58 kg of gold jewellery worth Rs 53 crore from a branch of Canara Bank at Managuli in Vijayapura district in May. Around 10.5 kg of melted gold has been recovered from them. The prime accused has been identified as Vijaykumar Miryal, 41, who was the senior manager of the branch, and the other accused as Chandrashekhar Neralla, 38, a realtor and casino owner, and Sunil Moka, 40, Neralla's associate. They have been remanded in judicial custody. Superintendent of police Laxman Nimbargi said, "The accused, were inspired by some Hollywood and Bollywood films. They planned the theft meticulously after watching several films on bank robbery."

Man injured after falling from jackfruit tree

Bengaluru: A man sustained injuries after falling from a jackfruit tree at Embassy Apartments on Ali Askar Road, near the Police Commissioner's office, on Thursday. The incident occurred within the limits of the Vidhana Soudha police station. According to police, the man was allegedly intoxicated when he climbed the tree to steal jackfruits. A security guard spotted him on top of the tree and questioned him. In an attempt to flee, the man lost his balance and ended up hanging from a branch. Police and others rushed to the spot with a tarpaulin to help him. However, he fell from a height of over 50 feet after hanging for a few minutes, police said. He sustained injuries to his hip and was rushed to Bowring and Lady Curzon Hospital for treatment. He reportedly told the police that he was plucking jackfruits.

Lifestyle-Related Surgical Problems How Can We Prevent Them?

Your lifestyle is silently waging war against your body — and it's winning.

DR. NANDA RAJANEESH, MS, FACRSI, FICS, MRCS, FAMS

Every unhealthy choice you make — every skipped workout, every fast-food binge, every hour slouched in front of a screen — is a strike against your health. The modern lifestyle, characterised by sedentary habits, poor dietary choices, and increased stress, has led to a rise in various health issues, including those which often require surgical intervention. These conditions can significantly affect an individual's quality of life, adding to morbidity, absence from work, altered mental health, and reduced confidence.

Let's explore some common lifestyle-related surgical diseases, their causes, and the importance of early prevention through lifestyle modification — rather than relying on surgical intervention.

Apollo Spectra HOSPITALS
Specialists in Surgery

Obesity-Related Surgical Diseases

Obesity is a major public health concern worldwide, and it is closely linked to several surgical diseases. Some common conditions include:

■ Gallstones: Being overweight increases the chances of developing stones in the gallbladder. These stones form more easily if you eat a lot of oily or fatty food, don't drink enough water, or take certain medicines. Once gallstones are formed, they usually don't go away with medicines. The only permanent solution is a surgery to remove the gallbladder, called a cholecystectomy.

■ Hernia: Excess weight can put additional strain on the abdominal muscles due to fat deposition adding to weakening of collagen fibres, increasing the risk of hernias, which may require surgical repair with or without use of Mesh.

■ Type 2 Diabetes: Obesity is a leading cause of type 2 diabetes, which can damage nerves, kidneys, and eyes. High blood sugar levels further delay wound healing and increase the risk of postsurgical infections, making recovery longer and more complicated.

Gastro-Oesophageal Reflux Disease (GERD)

GERD occurs when stomach acid flows back into the oesophagus, causing heartburn and regurgitation. It is often aggravated by obesity, smoking, and fatty or spicy foods. If left untreated, GERD can lead to serious complications such as inflammation, narrowing of the oesophagus, or even cancer. In severe cases, surgery called fundoplication may be required to strengthen the valve between the stomach and oesophagus and prevent acid reflux.

Varicose Veins

Varicose veins are swollen, twisted veins that may appear unsightly and cause discomfort. They commonly develop due to prolonged standing, excess weight, or genetic predisposition. Treatment options include lifestyle changes, wearing compression stockings, or minor procedures to remove or seal the affected veins.

Lifestyle-Related Cancers

Certain lifestyle factors, can increase the risk of developing certain types of cancer, including:

■ Colorectal cancer: A diet low in fiber and high in processed foods that are commonly consumed by many in the modern-day lifestyle can increase the risk of colorectal cancer, which require surgical treatment as one of the modalities of management that adds to morbidity.

■ Breast cancer: Lifestyle factors such as obesity and lack of physical activity with habits such as excess alcohol intake and smoking may contribute to an increased risk of breast cancer, which may require surgical intervention.

Prevention and Management

While not all lifestyle-related surgical conditions can be entirely prevented, many can be avoided or managed through consistent healthy habits. Maintaining a healthy weight through regular physical activity and a balanced, fibre-rich diet is essential, as obesity remains a key risk factor. A diet high in fruits, vegetables, whole grains, and lean proteins supports overall health, while regular exercise helps prevent conditions such as type 2 diabetes, certain cancers, and cardiovascular disease. Avoiding smoking and limiting alcohol intake further reduce health risks.

However, simply knowing these facts is not enough — discipline is key. Building and maintaining a healthy lifestyle requires conscious effort and long-term commitment. Staying active, avoiding processed foods, and undergoing regular health check-ups can help detect issues early, when they are more manageable.

Lifestyle-related surgical conditions are a growing global health concern. But with early intervention and disciplined daily choices, their impact can be reduced — and in many cases, surgery can be avoided altogether.

SIDDU COTERIE MIFFED AS BRASS ADOPTS WAIT-&-WATCH POLICY

CM's supporters also seek to replace Surjewala as state in-charge

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

WITH the Congress high command not in the mood to make any changes both in the party and the government until Chief Minister Siddaramaiah completes two-and-a-half years of his tenure in the top post in October, there seems to be a feeling of uneasiness among his coterie.

Cooperation Minister KN Rajanna, who wants Siddaramaiah to continue as the CM, on Thursday said, "There will be a 'revolution' in Karnataka's political sphere in September; let's wait and watch." After making the statement, he visited Siddaramaiah.

Political analysts interpret Rajanna's statement as a strong message to the high command against any move to unseat Siddaramaiah.

Meanwhile, DCM DK Shivakumar said, "Rajanna is a senior leader, I don't know about the revolution."

When asked whether the CM was losing control of the administration, with the party MLAs slamming the government, Shivakumar termed it a creation of the media. "There is no loss of control in the administration. If there is anything, the CM and I will talk to our party leaders." He added that the high command representatives will be in the state soon to hear the grievances of the MLAs.

Interestingly, the deputy chairman of the planning commission, who had alleged that there was corruption in the housing scheme, had met Shivakumar before meeting Siddaramaih on Wednesday evening, raising many eyebrows. Many MLAs have started visiting Shivakumar recently with their grievances, a Congress leader pointed out.

Meanwhile, Siddaramaiah's Man Friday and PWD minister, Satish Jarkiholi, who is aspiring to be KPCC president, said that there will not be any major reshuffle in the Cabinet but some change will happen in November.

"We met the high command leaders in general but Siddaramaiah held one-to-one meetings with them", Jarkiholi told reporters on Thursday. He was among the Siddaramaiah coterie of ministers who met AICC president Mallikarjuna Kharge, general secretaries KC Venugopal and Randeep Singh Surjewala, in charge of Karnataka affairs, in New Delhi on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Siddaramaiah's supporters are also seeking to replace Surjewala as the Karnataka in-charge. "There will be changes but the high command will take a call in this regard," said Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara.

Siddaramaiah, during his visit to New Delhi, appears to have prepared the ground for his continuation as the CM. He is likely to meet Rahul Gandhi when he returns from abroad.

Sources, however, said that Gandhi was not happy with Siddaramaiah's handling of the issue of Socio-Economic Educational Survey (SES-2015), which prompted the party to go for a fresh caste census. The Siddaramaiah camp was hopeful of a reshuffle in the Cabinet and a change in the KPCC president post, whereas Deputy CM DK Shivakumar's camp was anticipating a change in the CM post as per the 'agreement' reportedly happened at the high command level when the party came to power in 2023.

Satish says CM will discuss Kage's concerns with DCM

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

PUBLIC Works Department Minister Satish Jarkiholi on Thursday said that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah will discuss the issue of lack of funds raised by MLA Raju Kage with Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar.

"Who says the Water Resources Department has no funds? It has ₹25,000 crore. But there are pending bills as well. Regardless of which government is in power, bills often remain unpaid for the first three years," he said.

He also said that he has not made any efforts to become KPCC president. "I am content with my current position. Had I tried, I would have pursued it further. As you all know, no one is actively backing me from behind."

Regarding the Chief Minister and his aides visiting Delhi, he said, "There is nothing unusual about it. We accompanied the CM to Delhi and met the President. During every Delhi visit, we engage with senior leaders. The CM may have held individual meetings, but we met everyone together."

On internal party dynamics, he said, "Senior leaders are closely observing all developments. The high command knows how to assign responsibilities. Even MLA BR Patil's remarks were discussed in Delhi, and senior leaders have spoken to the Chief Minister about them."

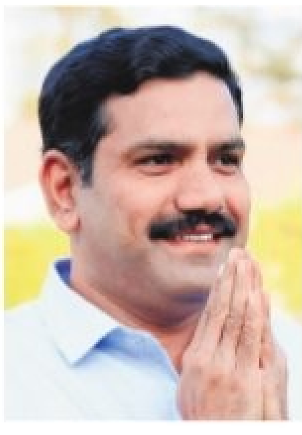
"Every constituency faces its own challenges, whether related to funds or transfers. Kage has brought several issues to my attention over the past year. However, that does not necessitate his resignation. The CM will address these concerns," he said.

BJP to name K'taka prez in a week, key contenders emerge

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE BJP is expected to name its new Karnataka state president within the next week, according to current president BY Vijayendra, who made the announcement on Thursday. This has sparked off intense speculation on who will be chosen to lead the party in the run-up to the 2028 Assembly elections.

Vijayendra, who led the BJP to a credible performance in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections by securing 18 seats, remains in contention. Yet, his leadership has come under scrutiny amid internal dissent, particularly from senior leaders who feel alienated under his tenure. A revolt led by senior MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, who was expelled from the party, has complicated Vijayendra's prospects.



Party insiders suggest that if Vijayendra is not retained, the BJP may seek to compensate his faction by offering a significant role to his brother BY Raghavendra, signalling the party's continued deference to the Yediyurappa family. Sources indicate the leadership is treading carefully so as not to antagonize former CM BS Yediyurappa.

Among the frontrunners are Union Minister V Somanna, who recently won Tumakuru Lok Sabha seat, and former CM and Haveri MP Basavaraj Bommai. Both are seen as experienced administrators with broad acceptance across factions. If the party wants a leader from North Karnataka and a Lingayat with experience, they could go with Bommai. Other potential candidates include Arvind Bellad, Jagadish Shettar and Murugesh Nirani, but some say they may not be considered for now.

There is a strong belief within the party that the next state president should be a Lingayat leader, given the community's electoral significance in Karnataka and the need to maintain continuity in caste representation. However, names from other communities — including Sunil Kumar, a Billava leader, and Shobha Karandlaje, a Vokkaliga — are also being discussed.

There is talk of changing leader of opposition in the assembly, R Ashoka, a Vokkaliga. He was in Delhi to meet a host of leaders, including Dharmendra Pradhan, JP Nadda, BL Santhosh, HD Kumaraswamy and others. Ashoka's inner circle said there may not be much credence to the information, but BJP sources said nothing can be ruled out.

'Internal dynamics'

Party sources say the ultimate decision will rest with the central leadership, which is focused on choosing a leader who can unite the Karnataka BJP and steer it to victory in the next state election. With internal divisions sharpening and key leaders jockeying for influence, the next few days are likely to be critical for the party's state unit.

Speaking to the media, Vijayendra expressed confidence that over the past one-and-half years, he has successfully carried out organizational work, a sentiment he believes is shared by party workers and leaders. "Good things are coming for everyone," he said with a smile.

Vijayendra clarified that his recent trip to Delhi was for personal reasons, and not to meet national leaders. He dismissed speculation about delays and confusion in appointing Karnataka's president, saying the selection process for presidents of 14 states has been completed, and announcements made. "In the coming days, presidents will be announced for six or seven more states, including Karnataka, followed by the national president," he clarified.

CID gives clean chit to MLC Suraj Revanna

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SLEUTHS of the CID on Wednesday submitted a B-report (closure report) in connection with the sodomy case involving JDS MLC Suraj Revanna, son of former minister and Holenarasipura MLA HD Revanna.

Suraj, the grandson of JDS supremo and former PM HD Deve Gowda, was arrested after a male JDS party worker filed a complaint alleging sexual assault at Suraj's farmhouse on June 16, 2024. The case was initially registered at the Holenarasipura Rural police station in Hassan district, and was later transferred to the CID.

Following investigation, the CID officers arrested Suraj, who was later released on bail. On Wednesday, the CID submitted a closure report before the special court that tries cases against sitting and former MPs/MLAs. The sources said that closure report was filed due to a lack of evidence in the case. The Holenarasipura Rural Police had registered a case against Suraj under Sections 377 (unnatural offences), 342 (wrongful confinement), 506 (criminal intimidation), and 34 (acts done by several persons in furtherance of common intention) of the IPC.

It may be recalled that Suraj's younger brother and former JDS MP, Prajwal Revanna, was also arrested on charges of rape and is currently lodged in Bengaluru Central Prison at Parappana Agrahara. Their father, Revanna, was also jailed and is currently out on conditional bail in a kidnap case linked to the same case.

Siddaramaiah raps legal dept for pending cases, unfavourable orders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah warned additional advocate generals to work effectively, failing which they would be replaced. In a review meeting, the CM said there are 21,799 government cases pending before the High Court, and no action has been taken in 5,016 cases. He directed them to dispose of these cases at the earliest.

A release from the CM's office said in order to fight effectively, the government has recruited additional advocate generals. It is the duty of the AG to uphold the law of the state, and the duty and responsibility of advocates to work towards this.

"Since it's not fought effectively, we are losing cases. Though cases are in favour of the State government, judgements delivered are not favourable," said a displeased Siddaramaiah.

He asked why they are unable to get stay orders against the state government vacated, and pointed out that a number of stay orders have not been vacated for years. He directed the advocates to clear these cases. "Because of your fault, the government should not face embarrassment," he added.

The CM said those cases which have merit and are in favour of the government should be fought effectively for a favourable order. He also directed them to inform the chief secretary if department officials do not cooperate.

Electrical mishaps: Special guidelines to be formed

ENS @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Electrical Inspector of Karnataka TN Appachu on Thursday said the major reasons for electrical accidents are improper low voltage installations, poor quality of electrical systems in high-rise government buildings and drawing power illegally. But now the bigger threat is from new-age power generation from green energy sources and storage in batteries.

Appachu was speaking on the sidelines of the inauguration of the National Electricity Safety Programme organised by the state energy department. The programme is held during the last week of June till the first week of July to raise awareness on the increasing number of accidents due to improper use of electricity. This year's theme is 'Smart Energy, Safe Nation'. Referring to the new-age power generation concepts, he said the Centre is also working on safety measures and special guidelines will be formed soon.

Another concern is that accidents have been increasing in rural areas where farmers have installed IP sets, ignoring safety norms. Farmers accidentally come in contact with live wires, leading to tragedies. Directions have been given to all escoms and zilla panchayats to create awareness on this, he said.

FIR against BJP over comparing Indira to Hitler

BENGALURU: KPCC members staged a protest in front of the BJP office here, over an alleged social media post comparing former prime minister late Indira Gandhi to Nazi dictator Adolf Hitler. The protesting Congressmen demanded that action be taken against BJP's social media cell for the derogatory post, following which an FIR has been filed against the Opposition party at the High Grounds police station. Meanwhile, the police detained the protestors. While Congress leaders claimed that the BJP has the right to criticise the Emergency, it does not have right to insult the former PM.

Aadhaar-based e-KYC to improve UDID efficiency

BENGALURU: To improve the efficiency and security of the Unique Disability ID (UDID) system, the health commissioner has issued a circular directing all medical authorities in the state to implement Aadhaar-based e-KYC for issuing disability certificates and UDID cards. This will streamline the process, reduce delays, and improve service delivery to persons with disabilities. The circular, dated June 25, follows a directive from the Department of Empowerment of Persons with Disabilities under the Union Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment, which rolled out the e-KYC feature on UDID portal on June 6.

CM to meet farmers amid land acquisition row

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Thursday announced that he will hold a comprehensive meeting with the protesting farmers and leaders of Samyukta Horata Vedike on July 4 at 11 am, to address their demands and concerns over the proposed land acquisition by the Karnataka Industrial Areas Development Board (KIADB).

Facing growing resistance from farmers, the state government has partially rolled back the plan, exempting 495 acres identified for acquisition in three villages of Channarayapatna hobli in Devanahalli taluk to establish the Defence and Aerospace Park.

Actor Prakash Raj and other activists head to meet Chief Minister Siddaramaiah at his residence, to discuss the land acquisition issue in Channarayapatna near Devanahalli, in Bengaluru on Thursday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

Earlier in the day, hundreds of farmers, Dalit groups, and activists from across Karnataka marched to the Chief Minister's official residence 'Kaveri', demanding an immediate halt to the acquisition of fertile agricultural land. Meeting a delegation of leaders, the CM assured that he would hold a meeting with them to resolve the issue on July 4.

The protest follows the 'Devanahalli Chalo' rally held on Wednesday, where farmers and activists opposed the government's plan. The demonstration, which began with a peaceful pledge by residents of 13 villages, escalated by evening as police detained protesters and released them later.

The farmers, who have been resisting displacement for over 1,100 days, took a collective vow in front of civil society, declaring, "Even if we lose our lives, we will never sell this soil. No matter how much you trouble us, we will never allow this green land to be destroyed."

Dr G LAUNCHES RAKSHA QR CODE TO COMBAT DRUG ABUSE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

TO tackle the drug menace in Karnataka, Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara launched the Raksha QR code on Thursday, enabling citizens to anonymously report instances of drug trafficking and usage. The initiative was launched as part of the 66th International Day Against Drug Abuse and Illicit Trafficking, held at Kanteerava Stadium.

Parameshwara also virtually gave permission to destroy 143.774 kg of various types of drugs valued at Rs 45 crore, seized by the Bengaluru City Police. The drugs were scientifically destructed at a facility in Hoskote.

‘Learning like a baby’

Shubhanshu Shukla’s message from space

The 4 astronauts interacted with their respective countrymen from spacecraft in their native language

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

PIC: SPACEX

“I am learning everything like a baby. Learning how to take baby steps, how to walk, and how to eat in the capsule,” said India’s Gaganyatri Shubhanshu Shukla from the Dragon spacecraft Grace on Thursday morning before the spacecraft docked with the International Space Station (ISS).

The four astronauts — Peggy Whitson, former NASA astronaut and director of the human spaceflight mission Axiom-4 from the US, along with Shukla and mission specialists Stawosz Uznanski-Wisniewski from Poland and Tibor Kapu from Hungary — shared videos and images of them sharing light moments in the spacecraft. They interacted with their respective countrymen from the spacecraft in their native language.

The mission was launched on June 25, 2025, after multiple delays, at 12.01am IST from the Launch Complex 39A of Kennedy Space Centre in Florida.

In a monologue communication with all countrymen, Shukla said, “After a month-long quarantine, I started from the location where the Apollo Moon Mission had launched. The Tricolour that I carry on my shoulder is constantly reminding me that I am not alone.” Shukla also greeted all Indians in Hindi, just as he had on Day 1, soon after the launch of the mission.

Adding on, he said, “My first thoughts when I got into the capsule was, let’s just leave. Let’s just go. And, when the ride started, the seat was pushed back because of the pressure, and after a while there was nothing. Just silence and vacuum. It took me some time to get used to it, but now I and all of us (all astronauts) have acclimatised,” he said.

“All of them say I have been sleeping a lot, which is a good thing. It is good to make mistakes, and it’s even nice to see others do the same,” he added.

Shukla is the mission pilot of the commercial crewed mission where the astronauts will spend 14 days on the ISS.

The astronauts shared videos of their floating swan-shaped soft toy, Joy. They also shared a video of tying it up, as it was floating everywhere all the time in the capsule. “These moments in the capsule are precious, and it is nice to do things together,” they echoed. They also shared images of them crossing over Europe and their respective countries. The spacecraft Dragon had crossed over the Indian Ocean at 6.18 am ET (3.48 pm IST).

WHAT HE SAID...

Shukla to sprout fenugreek seeds, green gram and bring them home

MALLIKARJUN HIREMATH
@ Dharwad

THE University of Agricultural Sciences (UAS), Bangalore, and Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Dharwad, have sent two types of seeds to the International Space Station (ISS) as part of the Axiom-4 research mission which was launched on Wednesday.

The pack of 25 grams green gram and fenugreek seeds will get sprouted in space while the same quantity of seeds will be grown in the same condition at the UAS campus to assess the sprouting seeds in detail. Shubhanshu Shukla, the ISRO astronaut, will water the seeds and will bring back the sprouted seeds home. UAS Vice-Chancellor PL Patil said the research will play a vital role in developing nutritious salad vegetables for future space missions.

Sprouted green gram and fenugreek are expected to help astronauts in managing issues related to immunity, bone, kidney and heart. It also helps to avoid carrying food in packets.

“Principal Investigator Ravikumar Hosamani, Assistant Professor, Department of Biotechnology (UAS), and Co-Investigator Sudheer Siddapureddy, Associate Professor, IIT Dharwad, have contributed to the project,” he added.

The sprouted seeds will be compared with the seeds grown here and in space to check the difference, including nutrition and other parameters.

The experts were at Kennedy Space Centre in Florida from June 8 to June 11 and handed over the seeds. The seeds were sent in 12 containers. Each container has a payload of four grams, approximately.

A plant-based food production system is crucial for supporting long-term human space exploration. Salad crops like lettuce, tomato, radish, cabbage, carrot and onion, which can be handpicked and eaten fresh, are ideal for supplementing the crew’s diet in space.

However, cultivating mature plants in space requires complex controlled environments, including programmable lighting, temperature, relative humidity, CO2 levels, and water nutrient delivery system.

For India, focusing on space agriculture, food and nutrition research is essential, as Indian astronauts have different dietary preferences and genetic backgrounds compared to Western astronauts.

Entire docking exercise completed in 13 minutes

EXPLAINING the slow capture of Grace by the docking mechanism of the ISS, experts said the relative speed at which the Ax-4 mission spacecraft was gaining on the ISS was slower than a human walk although the speeds that the space laboratory and the spacecraft were doing was a whopping 7.5 km per second, revolving the Earth every 90 minutes.

Incidentally, soon after docking, Ax-4 astronauts experienced a minor technical glitch with their communication system, needing five additional minutes before commencing the hatch opening procedures to enter the ISS. The entire docking exercise was completed in 13 minutes, of which the exercise of establishing power connections between Grace and ISS took two minutes. The docking took place when the ISS was over the North Atlantic at an altitude of 400 km.

Experts said that over the next two weeks, the Ax-4 mission crew members will undertake 60 listed experiments, conduct live classes and interact with students, VIPs and experts on the Earth.

Shukla will conduct seven experiments, which will include investigating impacts of spaceflight on six varieties of crop seeds to help understand how crops grow in space for future exploration missions; comparing two strains of cyanobacteria to investigate growth rates, cellular responses, and biochemical activity in microgravity; studying the impact of microgravity on seed germination and growth of crop seeds; investigating the impact of microgravity on the growth, metabolism, and genetic activity of microalgae as compared to that on Earth; identifying pathways responsible for skeletal muscle dysfunction in microgravity and exploring therapeutic target strategies; studying physical and cognitive impact of utilizing computer screens in microgravity; Science Technology Engineering & Mathematics (STEM) outreach activities for Indian students; and probing revival, survival, and reproduction of tardigrades (microanimals known for their extreme resilience in challenging environments, including in space).

Woman drives car on tracks, disrupts train services in TG

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

TRAIN services were disrupted near Shankarpally in Chevella mandal of Ranga Reddy district on Thursday morning after a woman drove her car on the railway tracks, affecting the movement of four passenger trains and four goods trains.

Police identified the woman as Vomika Soni, 35, a native of Lucknow, who had recently lost her IT job in Hyderabad. Officials said she was mentally distressed since losing her job.

According to railway staff, the car was spotted around 9 am on the tracks between Nagulapalli and Shankarpally. Despite attempts to stop her, she continued driving, forcing railway officials to halt an oncoming train. The car was eventually stopped with the help of local residents.

When asked to exit the car, Soni refused and attempted to flee. Railway staff and locals broke the windows to pull her out. She was detained until the arrival of Shankarpally police.

Shankarpally Inspector Srinivas Goud said the woman was aggressive and appeared to be in an unstable state. She allegedly threw stones at police and bystanders, injuring a few before being subdued.

Police sent her for medical examination to check if she was under the influence of alcohol. A case has been registered and further investigation is ongoing.

TIGRESS, 4 CUBS FOUND DEAD IN MM HILLS

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

IN a major blow to tiger conservation efforts in Karnataka, the carcasses of a tigress and her four cubs were found in Meenyam forest of Male Mahadeshwara Wildlife Sanctuary in Chamrajnagar district on Thursday morning.

Foresters prima facie suspect that the big cats died after consuming poison-laced cattle meat. The carcasses were found by the frontline staff during routine morning patrol. A team of veterinarians conducted the autopsy and collected comprehensive tissue, blood, and stomach samples for toxicology, histopathology, and DNA profiling.

Expressing shock over the incident, Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre ordered a probe into the “unnatural death” of the animals. Top forest officials, including CCF Heeralal, APCCF Srinivasaan and DFO Chakrapani as well as National Tiger Conservation Authority representative Malleshappa visited the spot. A dog squad has been pressed into service and forensic experts have collected physical evidence.

Residents of most villages falling in MM Hills take their livestock to the forest range for grazing. There have been many incidents of cattle being killed by tigers and leopards. Officials suspect that a cattle owner, upset over the killing of his livestock, had laced the meat with fluoride. The forest and police departments have started tracking, summoning, and investigating shepherds grazing cattle in Hoogyam, Meenyam and nearby fields, as well as those owning cattle sheds in open spaces. The police are also compiling a list of cattle grazers and cattle owners living on the forest fringes.

The forest minister has directed the PCCF to investigate and submit a report within three days, promising serious action against those responsible. “The area has been immediately cordoned off and declared a protected zone. Standard Scene of Crime (SoC) protocols have been invoked, with a 500-metre sweep radius activated to preserve and collect all physical evidence. A five-member expert team has undertaken a comprehensive necropsy following NTCA protocols,” Khandre said.

Following the incident, the forest department has strengthened monitoring and anti-poaching vigilance using drones, and all anti-poaching camps have been put on high alert. A search for snares, poison baits, and traps is on. Officials have announced zero tolerance against wildlife crimes, and a 24x7 confidential helpline has been activated at the divisional office to receive tips on wildlife crimes.

K’taka ties up with Khan Academy to bridge digital learning gap

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TO push digital learning, Karnataka government has collaborated with Khan Academy India to implement the ‘Gyan Setu’ programme to bridge the learning gap by offering free access to high-quality online educational resources to students in government schools and colleges across the state.

Under this, Khan Academy India’s curriculum-aligned content for Mathematics, Science, English, and other subjects will be made freely accessible.

The programme, announced under this year’s budget, will benefit approximately 15.91 lakh students studying in Classes 6 to 10 across 26,597 government schools and another 3.13 lakh students enrolled in 1,229 government pre-university (PU) colleges. Students preparing for competitive exams such as CET, JEE, NEET, CUET, CLAT, and CA Foundation will also receive targeted support through digital content and test preparation tools available on the platform.

Khanmigo, an AI tool developed by Khan Academy, will be made freely available to teachers and students in Classes 8 to 10 and first and second PUC, to enhance student engagement and enable self-paced learning.

“One session every Saturday will be dedicated to the use of Khan Academy’s content, especially focusing on Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Mathematics (STEAM) subjects,” the order stated.

Existing infrastructure such as smart boards, LED projectors, laptops, tablets, and internet-enabled computer labs will be utilised for implementation. Each school and college will allocate one period per week for Khan Academy-based learning, the order added.

The amount - Rs 540.10 lakh - will primarily be used for training teachers and lecturers in the effective use of Khan Academy resources and its AI-based assistant tool, Khanmigo. Teachers and lecturers teaching Classes 6 to 12 will be trained to incorporate Khan Academy’s content. Digital mentors will be appointed at the block level to provide on-ground support.

A third-party evaluation agency will also be appointed to monitor the programme’s progress, and regular reviews will be conducted at the state level.

The Director of State Educational Research and Training will serve as the implementing officer, while the State Project Director of Integrated Education Karnataka, will oversee the programme’s execution.

PURI ALL SET FOR RATH YATRA

RAJ KUMAR MOHANTY @ Puri

BEDECKED and under a thick blanket of security, Puri is all set for the annual Rath Yatra of Lord Jagannath, Lord Balabhadra and Devi Subhadra on Friday. The holy Trinity accompanied by deities Sudarshan, Madanmohan and Ramakrishna will embark on their nine-day sojourn to the Gundicha temple on three magnificent chariots rolling majestically along the 3-km stretch of the Badadanda (Grand Road).

Close to a million devotees are expect to throng the city for the car festival. On Thursday, Pujapanda servitors ceremoniously handed over the Agyanmallyas to Biswakarma artisans, giving the green light for the sacred journey. The pahandi procession - where the deities are escorted to their respective chariots - is scheduled between 8 am and 11.30 am on Friday.

DEVELOP A ROBUST AVIATION MAINTENANCE ECOSYSTEM IN INDIA

THE recent Air India crash, whose causes are still being investigated, casts a harsh light on an issue critical for aviation safety—the country's maintenance, repair and overhaul (MRO) ecosystem. It's not merely about fixing aircraft, but having a well-regulated backbone to ensure that every plane taking off is fit to do so. MRO is not an option; it's a critical pillar of aviation safety. However, the sector is in a nascent stage in India even after years of regulatory efforts to establish an ecosystem. The crash and the frequent flight cancellations due to technical glitches should be seen as a warning for the government to address the challenges the sector faces and clear the hurdles to its development.

The Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA)—the body that oversees aviation safety and enforces MRO standards in the country—faces its own share of challenges. A Parliamentary Standing Committee report tabled just days before the Air India incident highlighted that the DGCA is facing a staggering 53 percent vacancy. How can the country's primary safety regulator effectively audit MRO providers, ensure compliance with complex civil aviation requirements and oversee a rapidly expanding sector—reflected in the number of airports growing from 74 to 220—with over half its sanctioned posts vacant? Similarly high levels of vacancy plague the Bureau of Civil Aviation Security, which is responsible for security, and the Aircraft Accident Investigation Bureau. All this adds up to a systemic oversight deficit in the country.

The domestic MRO sector is hobbled by some inherent deficiencies. A Niti Aayog report has highlighted manufacturing monopolies that restrict access to vital data and manuals, inadequate infrastructure such as modern hangars and specialised training facilities, and a lack of universal recognition for DGCA's certifications, which severely hinders India's ability to undertake high-value MRO work. While policy adjustments like GST reduction are welcome steps, they alone cannot address the foundational issues hampering the sector's growth and efficacy. The safety of the millions flying every day rests squarely on ensuring the regulator tasked with overseeing it has the resources to perform its job. The recent crash unequivocally underscores this. Building a robust MRO infrastructure and filling critical regulatory vacancies are not avoidable expenses—they are essential investments needed to save lives.

FARE HIKE MUST NOT JOLT AFFORDABLE RAIL TRAVEL

INDIAN Railways has proposed a modest fare hike for passengers from July 1, from which suburban fares have been exempted to protect daily commuters. The railways contend that the hike is much less than those in 2020 and 2013, and is prompted by the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Railways' recommendation to increase earnings from the passenger segment to boost revenues.

Three questions arise. First, how the railways can achieve social balance by applying the affordability principle, thereby sparing general-class travellers and limiting the increase to AC classes. Given the highly subsidised passenger services, the railways recover 39 percent of costs from non-AC travel, whereas the AC classes generate a surplus of a mere 3.5 percent. The viability of a steeper rise in AC fares must be examined, considering that the demand for AC first and second class berths has increased despite the prices nearly equalling airfares.

Secondly, how can the railways justify even a minimal fare hike for general class passengers without ensuring them basic amenities? In 2024-25, of the 715 crore train passengers, a whopping 634 crore travelled on unreserved compartments. Thousands of viral videos on social media attest to their pathetic conditions of travel—severely overcrowded carriages, unusable toilets and dry water taps. Nearly all these passengers come from the bottom of the economic pyramid. The government's social service obligations should recommend holding the rate hike for this class till the conditions improve—such a hike risks marginalising crores of Indians who have no viable alternatives.

Thirdly, funding the railways' need to maintain and modernise. For this, it should revisit non-fare revenue models and make freight operations more efficient before burdening poor travellers. The pricing model for top-end services can be revised while keeping basic travel affordable. Modernising stations under the Amrit Bharat Station Scheme should help convert them into revenue hubs through advertising and enhanced services, as well as increasing private partnerships. Curbing delays can cut costs, but track renewal in the world's fourth largest network is woefully inadequate, resulting in superfast trains chugging well below their optimum speeds. Despite this, the railways' estimated capital expenditure this fiscal remains unchanged from the last. A new-age rail system must also focus more on long-term, multilateral infrastructure financing. As for the fare policy, it must hinge on a single criterion—mass affordability.

QUICK TAKE

PARTICIPATE TO PERFECT PLATFORM

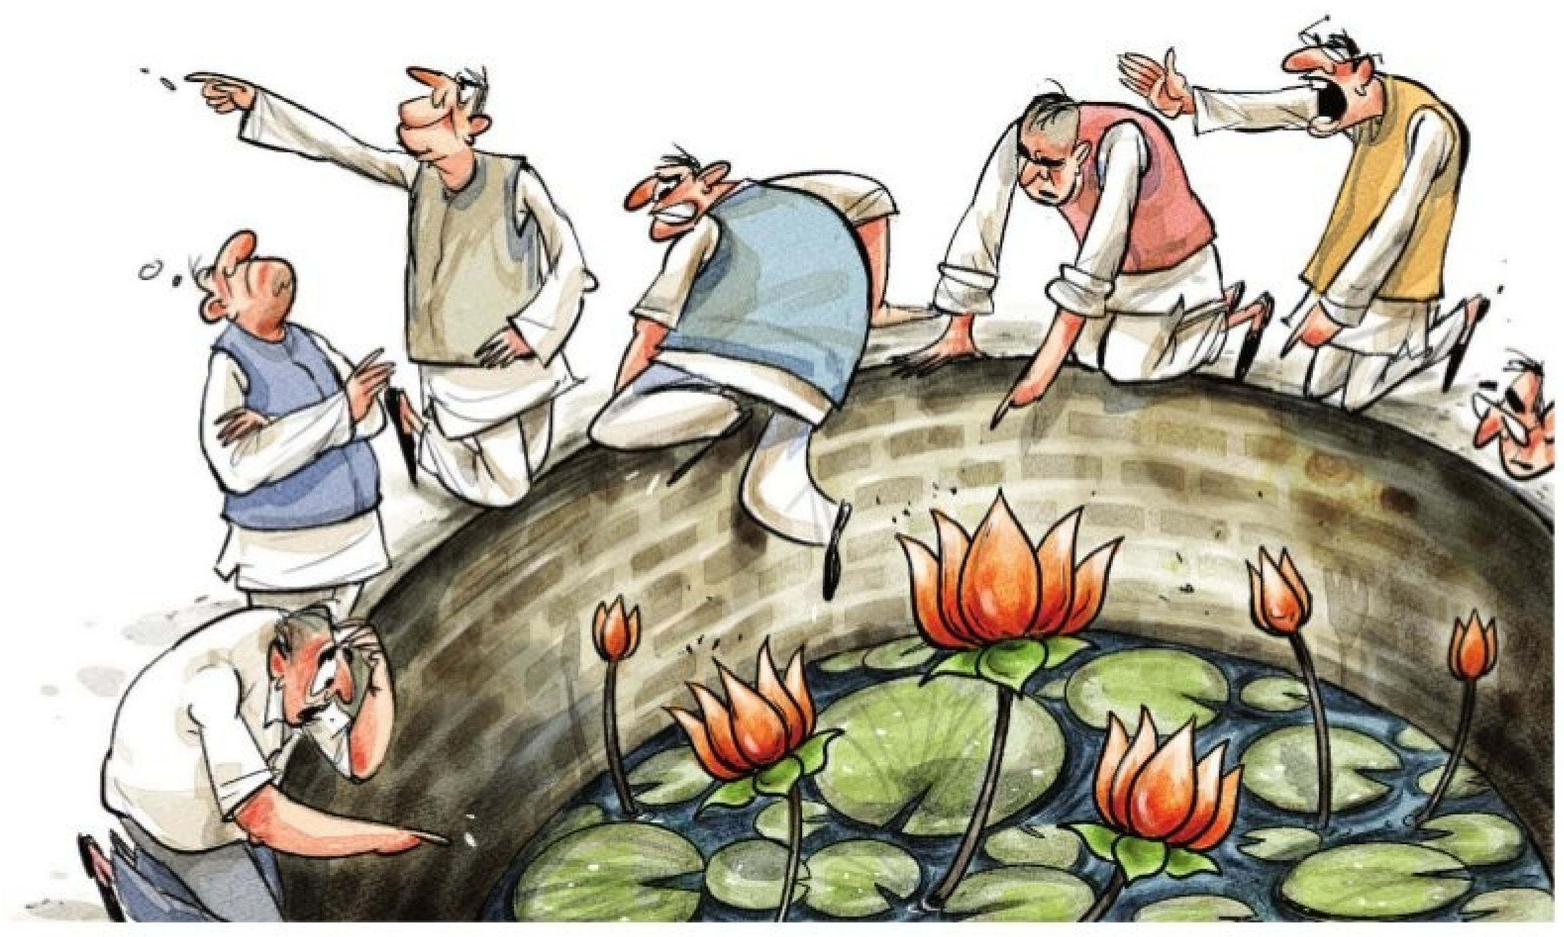
THE Election Commission launched its ECINET digital platform during the recent bypolls in four states. It has been set up as user-friendly platform to integrate over 40 applications and publish Index Cards—with data on votes polled and counted, shares, gender-based patterns and regional variations—within 72 hours of the declaration of results. Coming after a slew of complaints from political parties over tardiness in declaring details and anomalies between data sets, it is indeed a welcome move. This is the moment for all parties to share their observations on the new platform. Glitches, if any, should be fixed collaboratively without denting the country's democratic credentials further.

The president of the world's largest political party continues in his post despite a long tenure and concurrent ministerial responsibilities. He's a survivor who has skirted controversies

J P NADDA: BJP PRESIDENT WITH NINE LIVES

RADHIKA RAMASESHAN

Columnist and political commentator



SOURAV ROY

AS the world's largest political party contesting serial elections, notching more hits than misses and running governments at the Centre and 14 states, the BJP is known to be a stickler for organisational propriety and discipline. It's no mean achievement considering that the exercise of executive and legislative power alters the dynamics within a party for the worse.

In the long years when the BJP was in the opposition, it scrupulously adhered to its own Constitution—as distinct from the Indian Constitution—particularly when confronted with imbroglios involving the leadership. The veto power lay with the extended family's head, the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh, that had the last word and sometimes shot down the BJP's proposals and decisions to party leaders' discomfiture. The RSS's assertions were manifest after the BJP was seated at the Centre and some states. Competing pulls and pressures became inevitable as the playing field grew larger and the stakes for BJP leaders bidding for absolute power became apparent.

In 1991, when L K Advani became the opposition leader in the Lok Sabha, without a fuss he relinquished the BJP presidency for Murli Manohar Joshi. The import of this act gets amplified when in 2005, he scripted encomiums for Muhammad Ali Jinnah during a visit to Jinnah's mausoleum in Karachi.

Following the first outcry of protest from Gujarat, where Prime Minister Narendra Modi was the chief minister and in the thick of fighting local body polls, Advani was pressured by the BJP and RSS's sarsanghchalak K S Sudarshan to quit office as the BJP chief. But ringed by a cabal of new friends and advisers who advocated the merits of converting to secularism, Advani fought back for a while and eventually gave up office. If the BJP and Advani had still not become the forces they were by then despite the BJP losing the 2004 election, the view was he would have acquiesced.

Notwithstanding the skirmishes in BJP-ruled states—most notably between two factions in Gujarat, of which one was aided by Modi, then a state general secretary—the party made it a point to hold organisational polls from the lowest tier every three years. Rivalries often surfaced at the mandal and district tiers, but these were quelled to allow the process of appointing a new president to go on.

So far in its history, the top post was never contested in the BJP, unlike the Congress which held polls twice to elect its president. It was either the RSS's writ that prevailed, pre-empting the inevitability of a contest that would have undermined the Sangh's own authority or the parivar's unified purpose to reach the commanding heights which disallowed disruptions in an all-important quest for absolute power.

The current incumbent, J P Nadda, leads a charmed life. The soft-spoken and amenable party president—who has no choice but to lie low in the highly centralised power structure run by the Modi-Shah duopoly—is nearly at the end of a five-year term. It's a record in a party whose Constitution stipulates two terms of three years each to a president. He stepped into the post once Amit Shah demitted office in 2019 on becoming a central minister.

Nadda hangs on to the post even after his induction in the Union cabinet, which was believed to be the first sign that a successor was being readied. His continuance has virtually put to rest the 'one person, one post' principle. But who cares for the party's Constitution any longer? When an old-timer timorously brought up the subject of not adhering to the book at an internal meet, he was told that the Constitution existed because of the party and not the other way—so there was no need to obsess over its importance.

Where is the much-awaited successor? A plethora of names are bandied about periodically. But like the cat with nine lives, each time the succession chatter gains momentum, Nadda manages to survive. He was seldom embroiled in a controversy like his role model, former party president Kushabhau Thakre, who served during Atal Bihari Vajpayee's prime ministerial tenure.

Nadda gladly ascribed all credit for BJP's electoral successes after the 2024 elections to Modi and Shah and is content delivering anodyne speeches at party meets. The only occasion he courted potential trouble was when he was held partially culpable for BJP's defeat in the latest polls in Himachal Pradesh, where Nadda hails from. Although he never actively participated in the state's politics, it was alleged in 2022 he played one faction against another.

Nadda again brought into focus the RSS-BJP fissures—which have come up a couple of times in the recent past—when he claimed in an interview that his party was capable of managing on its own and did not need the Sangh. He described the RSS as an ideological front. Was Nadda prompted to define the new roles? Insiders conceded he ought to have known the RSS's damage potential after the BJP fell far short of its projection in the 2024 polls and had assembly elections to fight soon thereafter, which it couldn't afford to lose.

While another party chief might have lost his job after an audacious claim, Nadda was left untouched, triggering rumours that all was not well between Sangh chief Mohan Bhagwat and Modi. Nadda attempted to buy peace by attending the parivar's coordination meeting in Palakkad last September; on its part, the RSS re-galvanised its cadres and put its army in action in Maharashtra and other election-bound states. The efforts paid off when the BJP retained Haryana and won Maharashtra conclusively after a poor showing in the Lok Sabha election.

The RSS reinforced its utility and significance for the BJP to such a degree that Modi secured Bhagwat's validation before announcing the Centre's decision to hold a caste census. He was not in a position to insouciantly brush aside the Sangh's interventions—if he did, the Sangh would lay its hands off the impending polls.

It appears that Nadda will stay put, unless the BJP acts before the Bihar battle. But given the propensity of the Big Two to use elections as an alibi to fend off the succession issue, the BJP president might just get another lease on life.

PROTECTING LOVE IN ALL FORMS

GOPI SHANKAR MADURAI

South Regional Representative for the National Council for Transgender Persons and Executive Board Member at ILGA Asia

IN a landmark ruling delivered earlier this month, the Madras High Court affirmed that same-sex couples can form families without legal marriage. It marked a major milestone for LGBTQIA+ rights in India, particularly in Tamil Nadu.

Emerging from a habeas corpus petition, the ruling addressed the case of a 25-year-old lesbian woman detained by her natal family. Her partner sought her release so that they could live together. While securing her freedom, Justices G R Swaminathan and V Lakshminarayanan expanded the definition of family under Indian law, emphasising personal autonomy and right to self-determination.

It comes decades after the 2002 suicide of two lesbian women in Erode's Satyamangalam forest after facing societal rejection of their relationship. Despite this, the 2025 verdict builds on Tamil Nadu's progressive legacy rooted in both legal reforms and Indic traditions fostering wider acceptance of diverse identities. The verdict signals progress while recognising the concept of a "chosen family" under Article 21 of the Constitution, which guarantees life and personal liberty. The court's assertion that "marriage is not the sole mode to found a family" validates non-traditional relationships and offers hope where despair once prevailed.

Despite a section of society refusing to accept gender-diverse communities, every May to July, vast numbers of indigenous gender-variant and diverse SOGIESC (sexual orientation, gender identity, expression, and sex characteristics) communities in south India honour their patron deities at temples such as those for Koothandavar Aravan in Tamil Nadu, and for Ellamma, Bhagavati and Mariamman across the region. These communities enact gender-specific Hindu rituals, which have historically provided sacred spaces for early LGBTQIA+ activism. This cultural acceptance, though not universal, has helped shape a more inclusive societal framework and complemented the legal efforts.

The court's legal reasoning in the latest case was meticulous. The detainee confirmed her lesbian identity and desire to live with her partner, exposing familial coercion. The judges, referencing the Supreme Court's 2023 ruling in the Supriyo @ Supriya Chakraborty case, noted while same-sex marriage remains unrecognised, same-sex couples can still form families. The court criticised police inaction and directed law enforcement to protect the couple, reinforcing the judiciary's role in safeguarding individual rights against societal and familial pressures.

Tamil Nadu's history of activism and legal milestones has been crucial in reaching this point. In 1994, former Chief Election Commissioner T N Seshan granted voting rights to transgender individuals, setting a precedent for inclusion. In 2004, advocate G R Swaminathan, now a judge, secured voter identity cards for transgender people, prompting the state to publicise their voting rights. By 2006, a government order aimed to improve transgender living conditions, promoting counseling to prevent disownment and ensure educational access.

PTI

Madras High Court's ruling that same-sex couples can form a family is a testament to Tamil Nadu's progressive legacy rooted in Indic traditions, activism and legal reforms. The state has led in establishing significant milestones for LGBTQIA+ rights in the country

In 2008, Tamil Nadu established a transgender welfare board, and in the early 2000s, it introduced one of India's first transgender welfare policies, offering free gender-affirming surgeries and socio-economic benefits. Asia's first Genderqueer Pride Parade and Education Fest for school children and college students were organised in 2012. Anjali Gopalan of Naz Foundation flagged off the event in Madurai.

In 2019, the Madurai bench of the Madras High Court led by Justice Swaminathan banned forced sex-selective surgeries on intersex infants, making Tamil Nadu the first state to do so. It also became the first to recognise and register marriages of transgender and intersex persons under the Hindu Marriage Law, amend police guidelines to prevent harassment of the LGBTQIA+ community, ban conversion therapy, and include LGBTQIA+ issues in curriculums in 2017.

Organisations like Srishti Madurai and Orinam Collective have supported these efforts through legal petitions, providing shelters, funds and organising workshops, pride parades, embedding queer rights within Tamil Nadu's cultural and legal fabric. Today, the Tamil has native terminologies for diverse SOGIESC identities, which is missing in many Indian languages.

Festivals and rituals at temples like Koothandavar Aravan, where gender-diverse individuals are celebrated, has provided a foundation for LGBTQIA activism. These sacred spaces, where GIESC communities perform rituals honoring deities associated with fluid gender identities, have historically challenged societal norms, fostering a sense of belonging and resistance against discrimination. This cultural acceptance, though not without resistance, has been a catalyst for legal victories, like the latest ruling, which resonates with the communal spirit of these traditions.

Despite these advancements, challenges persist. The 2002 suicide underscores the personal struggles behind legal battles. Activists say societal acceptance often lags behind legal progress, with financial hardships and exclusion remaining prevalent.

The latest verdict complements rulings by former Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud and Justice Venkatesh of Madras High Court, creating an ecosystem where personal identity and relational freedom are upheld as matters of dignity and public interest, the ruling has sparked broader discourse on queer rights, inviting debate on legal recognition of diverse family structures. It signals a future where all, regardless of sexual orientation, can live with integrity and autonomy.

The ruling is a testament to the enduring power of activism. Activists are continuing to push for comprehensive legal recognition, including same-sex marriage, and cultural acceptance to address ongoing discrimination. Building on decades of progress, the latest judgement ensures that love in all its forms is protected, offering a path towards an inclusive future where past tragedies are not repeated. (Views are personal)

Treat visa forms on merit: MEA

Govt stays engaged with US to ensure legitimate interests of Indian nationals safeguarded

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

INDIA has called for a merit-based approach to visa applications for its citizens as the United States rolls out stricter screening measures, particularly for students and exchange visitors. "We remain engaged with the US side on all mobility issues and consular issues to ensure that the legitimate interests of Indian nationals are safeguarded," External Affairs Ministry spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said Thursday.

Responding to queries on recent US visa guidelines, Jaiswal acknowledged that immigration and visa matters fall under the sovereign domain of individual countries. However, he added: "It is our belief that all visa applications of Indian nationals should be treated based on merit."

The spokesperson said, "On the guidelines regarding visa issues, yes, you see, visa matters, immigration matters are matters which pertain to sovereign functions of any country. But having said that, we have seen the guidelines issued by the US side, with the US Embassy here, US government, regarding providing details of social media identifiers in visa applications."

The US Embassy in India recently introduced new security protocols for applicants under the F, M, and J non-immigrant visa categories. Applicants are now required to disclose all social media usernames used over the past five years in their DS-160 application form. Failing to do so, the Embassy warned, could result in immediate visa denial and potential ineligibility for future applications.

"Omitting social media information could lead to visa denial and ineligibility for future visas," the US Embassy stated in a post on X. It also advised students and exchange visitors to set their social media profiles to "public" to assist in identity verification and admissibility checks.

These new rules come amid a broader tightening of the US visa regime, which has already impacted many Indian students. Reports have emerged of glitches in the SEVIS (Student and Exchange Visitor Information System), heightened scrutiny of student records, including online activity, and stricter checks at ports of entry.

Responding to a query on travel US advisories, the spokesperson said countries update advisories based on internal assessments. The US revised its advisory for India on June 16 but confirmed no change in the risk level, which remains at Level 2—unchanged for several years.

"We have been informed by the US authorities that there has been no change in India's advisory level, which remains at level 2, the same as before. And the US's travel advisory level for India has been at level 2 for several years," he said.

Meanwhile, India has taken note of Pakistan Army Chief Filed Marshal Asim Munir's recent visit to the White House but declined to comment further. "We have noted the visit. I have no further comment to make," MEA spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said in response to media queries about the White House invite to the Pakistan army chief.

Reaffirming the strength of India-US relations, Jaiswal said, "Our partnership with the United States is wide-ranging, grounded in shared democratic values and growing strategic convergence. A comprehensive global strategic partnership between India and the United States continues to receive high-level attention."

He emphasised that the relationship is reflected in sustained cooperation across key sectors, including trade, critical technologies, energy, and defence. "We remain confident in the trajectory of this most consequential partnership of the 21st century," he added. The remarks come amid renewed US military diplomacy with Pakistan as part of what appears like the regional strategic recalibrations by the United States.

'India monitoring reports on radiation levels'

India is closely monitoring updates from the International Atomic Energy Agency regarding radiation levels at affected sites. MEA spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said India is "closely following updates from the IAEA about radiation levels in the affected sites." The targeted facilities did not contain any nuclear material or only had small quantities of natural or low-enriched uranium.

Hindi is not in conflict with any Indian language: Shah

Home Minister Amit Shah at the Golden Jubilee celebration of the department of official language as the chief guest in New Delhi on Thursday | PTI

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Thursday said that Hindi is not in conflict with any Indian language, emhasising that "Hindi is the friend of all Indian languages."

Speaking as the chief guest at the Golden Jubilee celebrations of the Department of Official Language, Shah underscored the integral role of language in a nation's identity and development.

Describing language as the "soul of a nation," Shah said that it is not merely a means of communication, but also embodies the spirit of a country. "Hindi language cannot be inimical to any Indian language. Hindi is a friend of all Indian languages, and together, Hindi and other Indian languages can take the programme of enhancing our self-pride to its ultimate goal," he said.

Stressing the importance of the mother tongue, the home minister said, "If any country has to move forward according to its conscience and culture, then it is necessary for its administration to be run in the mother tongue".

He further said: "Rajbhasha Hindi and all Indian languages together can take our programme of self-esteem to its ultimate goal. No state can ever become great by neglecting its mother tongue, so the Modi government is determined to enrich Indian languages."

Lauding the role of the Department of Official Language, Shah said, "During the centenary of India's independence, the 50-year journey of the department from 1975 to 2025 will be inscribed in golden letters among all the efforts for the revival of the nation's self-respect." He said the department was established to ensure that governance is conducted in the language of the people. "No country can preserve its culture, literature, history, and social values without its language. For the country to move forward with self-respect based on its culture, its governance must be conducted in its own languages," he said.

Referring to the "Panch Pran" (five pledges) outlined by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the Home Minister highlighted the importance of overcoming the colonial mindset. "Until a person takes pride in his/her own language, and develops the ability to express, think, analyse, and make decisions in it, we cannot be free from the mentality of slavery. The language is not merely a medium of communication, but the soul of the nation," he said.

Shah stressed that roots, traditions, history, identity, and the cultural way of life cannot advance if disconnected from language.

Hosabale renews pitch for removal of 'socialism', 'secularism' from Preamble

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

RSS Sarkaryavah Dattatreya Hosabale on Thursday sought removal of 'socialism' and 'secularism' from the Preamble, saying the terms were forcibly introduced during the Emergency and were never part of the Constitution drafted by BR Ambedkar.

He said that the Congress must apologise for the imposition of Emergency by the Indira Gandhi government 50 years ago, adding that it was the biggest blow to democracy.

"During that period, terms like 'socialism' and 'secularism' were forcibly inserted into the Preamble of the Constitution. Today, we must reflect on whether these words should remain there. Those who did such things are today moving around with Constitution's copy. They have still not apologised... Apologise," he said in a veiled attack on Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi. "Your ancestors did it... You must apologise for this to the country," he added.

Hosabale was speaking at a function on the 50th anniversary of the Emergency, organised at Dr Ambedkar International Centre in Delhi under the joint auspices of the Ministry of Culture's Indira Gandhi National Centre for the Arts (IGNCA), Ambedkar International Centre, and the multilingual dialogue organisation Hindusthan Samachar.

Hosabale and Union Road Transport Minister Nitin Gadkari were the chief guests.

Present on the occasion were the Chairman of the Indira Gandhi National Centre for the Arts (IGNCA) Ram Bahadur Rai and National Swabhiman Movement Founder-President KN Govindacharya.

Gadkari said the RSS and its ideology played a significant role in opposing the Emergency. "It was through the sacrifice of RSS-inspired workers that the defence of democracy became possible," he said.

Rift deepens as Tagore raps Tharoor, says 'even a free bird must watch sky'

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

IN a sign of deepening rift between the Congress and party MP Shashi Tharoor, party leader Manickam Tagore took to social media with "even a free bird must watch the skies" jibe against his party colleague.

On Thursday, Tagore, Congress' whip in the Lok Sabha, wrote on X, "Don't ask permission to fly. Birds don't need clearance to rise. But today even a free bird must watch the skies -- hawks, vultures, and 'eagles' are always hunting. Freedom isn't free, especially when the predators wear patriotism as feathers." He also shared a chart with the list of birds known as "hunters of the sky".

His response came a day after Tharoor put out a cryptic post on X with an image of a bird and this caption: "Don't ask permission to fly. The wings are yours. And the sky belongs to no one..." .

On Wednesday, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge took a jibe at Tharoor saying his party believes in "country first" mantra but for some it is "Modi first and country later".

When asked about Tharoor's article on Operation Sindoor outreach in which he praised PM Narendra Modi, Kharge said, "I can't read English well. Tharoor's English language is very good, that's why we have made him a Congress Working Committee member."

"But I want to say that the people of the opposition together said they are with the Army that is fighting (during Operation Sindoor)... We (the Congress) said the country is paramount and we will work together (with the government). We said 'country first, party later'. Some people say 'Modi first, country later'. What can we do about that," he said.

Tharoor said in the article that Modi's energy, dynamism and willingness to engage remained a "prime asset" for India on the global stage but deserved greater backing.

Remarks by the leader, who also headed one of the delegations sent abroad to spread the government's message on Operation Sindoor, were seen as likely to irk the Congress party and widen cracks in his ties with its leadership.

In the article, Tharoor said the diplomatic outreach following Operation Sindoor was a moment of national resolve and effective communication. The Prime Minister's Office had shared Tharoor's article on X.

Speaking at an event in Moscow, Tharoor on Tuesday said his article was not a sign of his "leaping to join" Prime Minister Modi's party but a statement of national unity, interest and standing up for India.

Precast concrete must for road projects costing over ₹300 cr to reduce delays

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

IN a move expedite infrastructure development and promoting sustainable construction practices, the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MoRTH) has made the use of precast concrete mandatory for all road and highway projects costing over ₹300 crore. The decision is part of a broader strategy to prevent delays, reduce construction costs, and minimise environmental pollution, said officials.

The use of precast concrete, which involves casting concrete elements in a controlled environment before transporting them to the construction site, is known to enhance construction speed, ensure better quality control, and reduce on-site emissions.

Initially, precast elements will be deployed for non-critical components of highway projects. The contractors will have the option to either procure factory-made precast components, subject to quality certification, or cast them at the project site, provided all guidelines are followed. To ensure smooth implementation, provisions will be incorporated in contract agreements to mandate the use of factory-manufactured precast concrete.

Union minister of road transport and highways Nitin Gadkari has been pressing for increasing usage of precast for a long time and has time and again spoken about making it 100 percent. He also had a discussion with Prime Minister Narendra Modi on the matter.

The components identified for mandatorily precast concrete are box culverts of specified sizes, storm water drain cum footpath, boundary wall or fence, RCC crash barrier, Kerbs and pedestrian or median railing, read a circular issued by the ministry.

"Need was felt to accelerate the use of precast concrete components to harness the benefits of precast technology in construction of national highways, expressways and other centrally sponsored road projects. Use of precast concrete elements in built-up areas or urban municipal limits has several benefits such as reduced pollution, minimise user time delay etc," it read.

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

TRAIN ticket bookings in unreserved classes in suburban and non-suburban regions have declined noticeably since 2021–22 to date, compared to the period between 2014–15 and 2019–20. On the other hand, Indian Railways have witnessed a marked increase in the booking of reserved class tickets after Covid-19.

A senior railway source explained, "The paying capacity of passengers from the middle classes has improved, leading to the rise in the booking of tickets in reserved classes."

According to official railway data, the proportion of passengers choosing to book tickets in reserved classes has risen significantly since 2021–22 compared to the ratio recorded between 2014–15 and 2020–21.

Sources said that around 772 million passengers booked tickets in reserved classes in 2021–22, followed by 779 million in 2022–23 and 771 million in 2023–24. Official data showed that "807 million passengers– the highest since 2014–15–booked their tickets in reserved classes in 2024–25".

At the same time, the number of passengers booking tickets in unreserved classes began to increase from the 2021–22 period. "In 2021–22, 2,194 million unreserved tickets were booked in suburban areas, followed by 3,834 million in 2022–23, 4,026 million in 2023–24 and 4,201 million in 2024–25. But, the booking of unreserved tickets in non-suburban areas declined from 2019–20," said a source.

The data clearly shows that unreserved ticket bookings in non-suburban areas were high from 2014–15 until 2019–20. Following the Covid-19 outbreak, only 76 million unreserved tickets were booked in non-suburban regions in 2020–21, which gradually increased to 582 million in 2021–22, 1,826 million in 2022–23, 2,150 million in 2023–24 and 2,360 million in 2024–25.

Notably, the booking of unreserved tickets in suburban areas was encouraging between 2014–15 and 2019–20. In 2020–21, only 925 million unreserved tickets were booked in suburban areas. Following the pandemic, bookings gradually increased from 2021-2022, reaching 2,194 million unreserved tickets in suburban areas.

Oppn yet to take call on supporting govt move to impeach Justice Varma

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AS the Union government is set to move an impeachment motion against Justice Yashwant Varma in the upcoming Monsoon session over 'burnt cash' controversy, the Opposition parties said they are yet to take call on signing the motion.

A three-member committee set up by former Chief Justice of India Sanjiv Khanna to probe allegations against Justice Varma has found "sufficient substance" in the corruption charges against him.

Congress sources said the party will hold a meeting next week and reach a decision. At a recent parliamentary panel meeting, several MPs asked why no FIR has been lodged over the recovery of unaccounted cash from a high court judge's residence and told the department of justice to prepare a detailed note on the matter. While some Opposition parties contend that the SC panel report is not a 'final one', DMK sources say the party is of the view that the panel has indicted the judge of misconduct. "However, our party will take a decision depending on the mood of Parliament," said an MP.

While the TMC is yet to pronounce its stand, RJD sources told this paper that the party will take a decision soon. Last month, CPI Rajya Sabha MP, P Sandosh Kumar, wrote to presidents of all parties demanding their support in initiating impeachment proceedings against Justice Varma.

Under the Judges (Inquiry) Act, 1968, a total of 100 MPs in the Lok Sabha, or 50 MPs from the Rajya Sabha are authorised to sign a motion to remove a judge. After the motion is signed and submitted to the Speaker or Chairperson, and accepted, it will go to the Chief Justice of India, and he will constitute a three-member committee on the matter. A fire incident at Justice Varma's residence in the national capital in March, when he was a judge at the Delhi High Court, had led to the discovery of several burnt sacks of cash at the outhouse.

Though the judge claimed ignorance about the cash, the SC-appointed committee indicted him after speaking to a number of witnesses and recording his statement.

The report said, "The half-burnt currency notes seen and found during the process of dousing of fire are highly suspicious items and more so are not of small amount or denomination which could not have been placed in the store room without the tacit or active consent of Justice Varma or his family members."

"Therefore, it is well nigh impossible for currency to be planted in the store room of a sitting Judge, which is being monitored by static 1+4 guard and a PSO stationed at the gate at all time, apart from the fact that the house abounds with a large number of old and trusted domestic servants with over six staff quarters," it said.

CAUGHT RED-HANDED

Customs officials on Wednesday arrested two persons after recovering hydroponic marijuana valued at ₹3.47 crore from them at the Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj International Airport here, an official said.

1 terrorist killed, 3 trapped as encounter erupts in J&K

Security measures in place for Amarnath Yatra as terror threat looms

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AMID increased security for the annual Amaranth Yatra beginning July 3, an encounter between terrorists and security forces in the Basantgarh area of Udhampur in Jammu and Kashmir on Thursday left a terrorist dead, while three others are trapped.

"Based on specific intelligence, a joint operation was launched by Indian Army and J&K Police in the Bihali area of Basantgarh in Udhampur district today," the Army posted on X (formerly Twitter).

The forces immediately laid siege around the area to track down the terrorists, braving inclement weather. "During the search operation, security forces established contact with the hiding terrorists who fired on the search party," the official said. He said the troops returned fire, triggering an encounter which lasted the entire day. "A terrorist was killed in the gunfight so far," an army official said. He said the security operation is going on to track down the remaining terrorists trapped in the area.

According to IGP Jammu, security forces have inputs that four militants were trapped in the encounter. Additional troops have been rushed to the area to tighten the siege.

10% drop in Amarnath registration post attack: L-G

J&K Lieutenant-Governor Manoj Sinha said on Thursday said there has been a drop of over 10% in pilgrim registration for this year's Amarnath Yatra in the wake of the Pahalgam terror attack. In view of the persisting threat, a total of 180 companies of Central Armed Police Forces, which is 30 more than previous years, have been deployed for the security of annual Amarnath Yatra in Jammu division this year,

The security forces used drones and other surveillance gadgets to pinpoint the movement of the terrorists.

He said security agencies believe that it is the same group of militants, which has been active in Udhampur for the last year. It is suspected that the group belongs to Jaish-e-Mohammad and all of them are Pakistani nationals and well-armed and properly trained.

The group was trapped in cordon and search operations on many occasions in Udhampur last year, too. But they had managed to give the slip to the security men, sources said.

According to sources, security forces have been conducting aerial surveillance of the area through drones and other surveillance gadgets to keep track of the movement of the militants, who have been continuously changing their positions to escape the security forces cordon.

There are heightened security measures for the Amarnath Yatra this year after the April 22 terror attack on tourists at Pahalgam's Baisaran in which 25 tourists and a local ponywala were killed.

AI PLANE CRASH

Black box data fully retrieved, analysis on

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Civil Aviation Ministry on Thursday said that the black box data of the Boeing 787 flight that crashed in Ahmedabad on June 12, killing over 270 people, has been successfully retrieved and is being analysed at the Aircraft Accident Investigation Bureau (AAIB) lab in Delhi.

The Cockpit Voice Recorder and Flight Data Recorder of the ill-fated plane were brought from Ahmedabad to Delhi on Tuesday in an Indian Air Force aircraft. "On the evening of 24 June, the team led by Director General, AAIB with technical members from AAIB and the US-based National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) began the data extraction process. The Crash Protection Module (CPM) from the front black box was safely retrieved, and on 25 June, the memory module was successfully accessed and its data downloaded at the AAIB Lab," the ministry said.

It added that the analysis of the data is underway to reconstruct the sequence of events leading to the accident.

Boeing 787 aircraft has two black boxes, each having a CVR and an FDR. Both were recovered within a week after the crash. One was retrieved from the rooftop of a building on June 13, and the other from the debris on June 16.

Navy staffer arrested for leaking classified info to ISI during Op Sindoor

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

AN Indian Navy employee posted in New Delhi has admitted to passing on secret military information related to Operation Sindoor to Pakistan's ISI for ₹50,000, authorities revealed on Thursday.

The accused, Vishal Yadav, is a clerk at Naval Headquarters and a native of Haryana. The Rajasthan Police Intelligence Unit apprehended him after months of surveillance, according to media reports.

Senior police official Vishnukant Gupta said, "Yadav was found to be in regular contact with a woman identifying herself as Priya Sharma, an alleged ISI operative. The suspect used social media platforms to communicate and share classified information." According to authorities, Yadav allegedly passed naval data and details about defence installations to her in exchange for money. A forensic examination of his phone revealed long-standing communication and data transfers, including during Operation Sindoor launched after the Pahalgam terrorist attack.

For months, Pakistani handlers kept talking to Yadav, posing as Priya Sharma. Then, she revealed her real name to Vishal. During his interrogation, Yadav admitted that he had previously received five to six thousand rupees from Priya for providing information.

"After Operation Sindoor started, Priya said that 'the news given by you is of C grade; if you give good news, then I will give more money'." He admitted to giving her information about the Navy and defence matters related to Operation Sindoor for ₹50,000. So far, he received ₹2 lakh for his spying. Official probe suggests Yadav was grappling with significant financial losses due to online gaming and became vulnerable to exploitation. "He received payments both through cryptocurrency wallets and direct bank transfers," Gupta added.

Intelligence agencies are interrogating Yadav at the Central Interrogation Centre in Jaipur, as efforts intensify to assess the damage caused by the leak and to identify more others linked to the network.

Solar-powered coal mining gets a push

The Parsa East and Kanta Basan (PEKB) coal mine, operated by the Rajasthan Rajya Vidyut Utpadan Nigam Ltd in Ambikapur district, about 330 km north of Raipur, has taken a significant step towards 'sustainable' mining with the operationalisation of a 9-MW solar power plant. This is the first direct application of renewable energy in India's coal mining sector. PEKB is a crucial source of coal for electricity generation for nearly 80 million consumers in Rajasthan. Developed by Mundra Solar PV Limited, the 9-MW solar facility established within the mine premises is expected to reduce nearly 400,000 tonnes of carbon emissions over next 25 years.

Bastar to host Central Zonal Council meet

The 25th meeting of the Central Zonal Council, held in Varanasi, declared Bastar as the next venue of the panel's session. This marks a significant stride in integrating India's remote and sensitive regions into the 'national development' discourse. Hosting such a high-level policy forum in Bastar stands as a powerful symbol of the inclusive and transformative governance, a government statement said. "It is hoped that by the time the next Council convenes, Bastar would have witnessed decisive progress in the ongoing battle against left-wing extremism. The Bastar is set to redefine its identity not as a region of possibilities rather than conflict."

Hindi to replace Urdu, Persian in police records

Chhattisgarh is set to replace Urdu and Persian words used in official records of the police department with Hindi terms. A list of 109 words have been provided with their Hindi alternatives, suggested to be used in place of the old words with an intent to simplify the vocabulary. The government cited Hindi as a 'convenient language' to understand, saying this will make policing communicative, accessible and transparent. On a directive by the state home department, the DGP has issued a letter to all district police chiefs asking them to change traditional Urdu and Persian words that were in use in police functioning with 'simpler' Hindi words.

12 from Udaipur feared dead as car plunges into U'khand river

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

TWELVE persons are feared dead on Thursday morning in Uttarakhand's Rudraprayag district when a Tempo Traveller carrying a family of pilgrims from Udaipur, Rajasthan, lost control and plunged into the Alaknanda River. Powerful river currents swept away the vehicle, carrying 20 members of a family on the Char Dham Yatra. Three bodies have been recovered so far, and nine are still missing.

The dead have been identified as Vishal Soni (41), Dreamy (17), and Gauri Soni (41). Eight injured persons are at AIIMS Rishikesh. The condition of four is critical, according to SDRF Commandant Arpan Yaduvanshi.

There is still no clue of the Tempo Traveller, and strong currents and inaccessible terrain are posing significant difficulties in search and relief efforts, Yaduvanshi said.

Eyewitnesses said that three individuals were flung out of the vehicle upon impact and were immediately rushed to the hospital in critical condition. The fate of the remaining passengers remains uncertain. Rescuers found one body 8 km downstream at Shivpuri.

3 dead, 20 swept away in Kullu, Kangra districts of Himachal after heavy rain

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

CLOUDBURSTS and flash floods in the Kullu and Kangra districts of Himachal Pradesh on Wednesday have left three people dead and swept away 20 others.

The weather office has warned of light to moderate flash flood risk over the watersheds and neighbourhoods of Shimla, Mandi, Kangra, Sirmaur, and Chamba districts for the next 24 hours, as the state may experience heavy to very heavy rain in isolated areas. In Kangra, a cloudburst caused flash floods struck a rivulet near Khanyara village, sweeping away labourers working on the Indira Priyadarshini Hydroelectric Project. Six labourers are missing, while the bodies of three have been recovered.

More than 170 workers were safely evacuated and provided with shelter by the local administration. Rescue operations are continuing with drones deployed and one worker still unaccounted for in nearby forests. Some labourers blamed alleged illegal mining and unsafe shelter placement near the rivulet for this tragedy, but the officials say it is a natural disaster. The project work stands suspended due to continuing rains. As of Wednesday night, around 250-275 workers employed at the site have been shifted to a temporary shelter at Ambedkar Bhawan in Khaniyara.

BJP MLA from Dharamshala, Sudhir Sharma, said, "The sheds for labourers were near the drain, and they were not shifted despite knowing the weather conditions. Thus, it is negligence, and an investigation should be initiated."

Kullu also reported three cloudburst incidents, while Manali and Banjar experienced flash floods. A search is on to find three people who were swept away when they delayed escape by trying to take their valuables from their homes in the Rehla Bihal area of Sainj.

Mamata fumes as EC revises electoral rolls in Bihar polls

KAUSHIK PRADHAN @ Kolkata

WEST Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Thursday hit out at the Election Commission (EC) for seeking documentary evidence of citizenship from people born between July 1987 and December 2004 for inclusion of their names in the voters' list.

"I have received two letters from the EC. The Commission is now seeking a declaration form from voters born between July 1, 1987 and December 2, 2004, where they will have to submit birth certificates of both parents as proof of citizenship," Banerjee told reporters in Digha, where she is currently stationed for Friday's Rath Yatra of Lord Jagannath in the newly inaugurated temple. "I don't understand the reason behind the EC move or the rationale behind selecting these dates. This is nothing short of a scam. I seek clarification from the Commission on whether they are trying to implement the NRC through backdoors. In fact, this looks to be more dangerous than the NRC which every political party in opposition must resist," she said.

EC acting at behest of BJP, claims Didi

Banerjee accused the EC of acting according to the wishes of the BJP. She called upon all political parties to come together to object to this issue. "How can the EC do this without consulting with political parties at the Central and state levels, as we play a key role in running the country's democratic structure?" she said.

Ahead of Bihar Assembly polls, due later this year, the EC announced a comprehensive revision of the voters' list. In the guidelines, the EC said names cannot be included in the voter list without a specific identity card of citizenship. In addition, those whose names were not in the 2003 voter list will have to submit proof of place of birth.

"Bihar is an excuse. Nothing will happen in Bihar because the BJP rules that state. Their real target is Bengal. They want to delete the names of valid young voters. Many parents will not be able to furnish their birth certificates. They are targeting the migrant worker community of Bengal, students, villagers and uneducated voters," the Trinamool Congress chief alleged. "Those born before 1987 are not Indian citizens! India became independent in 1947. I don't understand why the period between 1987 and 2004 is being targeted. This is serious," she said.

Banerjee accused the EC of acting according to the wishes of the BJP and challenged its authority in making such rules. "How can the EC do this unilaterally without consulting the recognised political parties at the central and state levels who play a key role in running the country's democratic structure? We have a federal system of government. Here, political parties or elected governments are never slaves," the CM said. She called upon all political parties to come together to object to this issue.

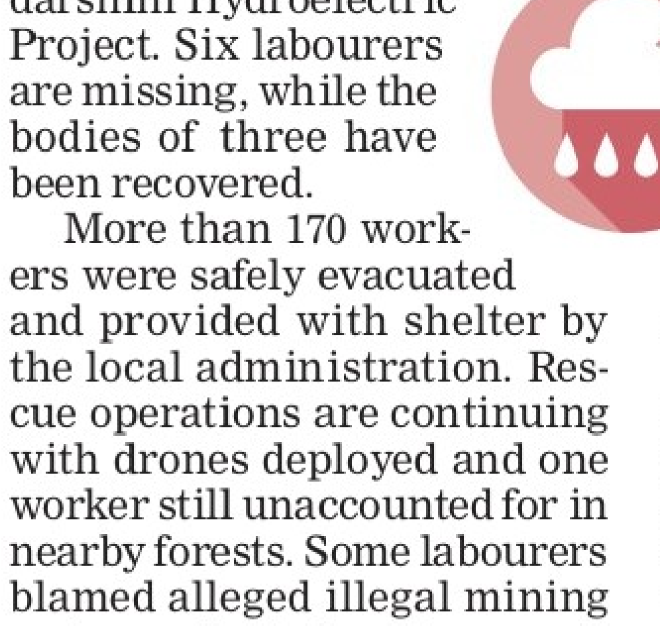
Alleging that there were many loopholes in the EC's decisions, Banerjee urged the commission to rectify the electoral roll with proper guidelines so that no valid name is deleted.

Uproar after ASI detects leakage from main dome of Taj Mahal

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

WATER is seeping through the central dome of the Taj Mahal in Agra, according to a thermal scan by the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI). The dome is currently encased in scaffolding, allowing the ASI to continue its inspections. The repair works will last six months and cost around ₹76 lakh. The monument may briefly close to the public, sources added.

According to historical references, Aurangzeb sent a report to Emperor Shah Jahan in 1652 about water leakage from the dome at two places on the north side during the monsoons. The British had also carried out repairs. The sources identified three factors contributing to the seepage. They emerged during ASI's Light Detection and Ranging investigation of the monument of love.



Agency will take around six months for repair

A physical inspection will be done. Given the height of the main dome and pinnacle mounted on it at 73 metres, it will take around 6 months to complete the repair work, Taj Mahal's Senior Conservation Assistant Prince Vajpayee said.

First, the mortar between the stones on the central dome has deteriorated. Secondly, the door and floor of the dome's roof have weakened. Lastly, the finial (pinnacle) mounted on the dome supported by an iron rod has rusted and is eroding, leading the surrounding mortar to expand. Together, they caused leakage in the main dome. During heavy rains last September, water dripped near the graves of Shah Jehan and Mumtaz in the main mausoleum of the Taj Mahal, inundating the premises. The Opposition raised an outcry over alleged inefficient maintenance. Taj Mahal's Senior Conservation Assistant Prince Vajpayee said, "Now physical inspection will be done. Given the height of the main dome and pinnacle mounted on it at 73 metres, it will take around 6 months to complete the repair work."

Gujarat Cong neta grilled in ₹7.30 cr MGNREGA scam

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

A multi-crore scam under the MGNREGA scheme has been exposed in Gujarat's Bharuch district, prompting a high-level police investigation. The ₹7.3 crore fraud, spanning 430 development works across 56 villages, was first flagged on May 30 by a government official from the Gram Vikas Agency, who filed a police complaint in Bharuch. The cops summoned Congress state vice president Hira Jotva for questioning. The SIT formed by Bharuch SP found Jotva's links with two contractors, who were key players in the racket.

The probe zeroed in the two contractors' firms meant to supplying material under the projects. These agencies allegedly manipulated records and provided substandard material.

MahaYuti on back foot on Hindi as third language in primary schools

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AMID growing opposition to imposition of Hindi as third language in primary schools, the Maharashtra government has clarified that Hindi textbook reading and writing will not be made a part of the syllabus from classes 1 and 2.

Maharashtra education minister Dada Bhuse said on Thursday that there will be no Hindi language exam in primary schools. "In the first Class 1 and 2, the students will be taught Hindi through pictures, stories and songs in a playful way," he said.

"We will ensure that there would not be any burden on the students over learning Hindi as an additional language. It will be taught in an oral way. There will be no Hindi textbook for Class 1 and 2 students in schools. From Class 3, Hindi will be taught through textbooks. The published textbooks are for the teachers," Bhuse said.

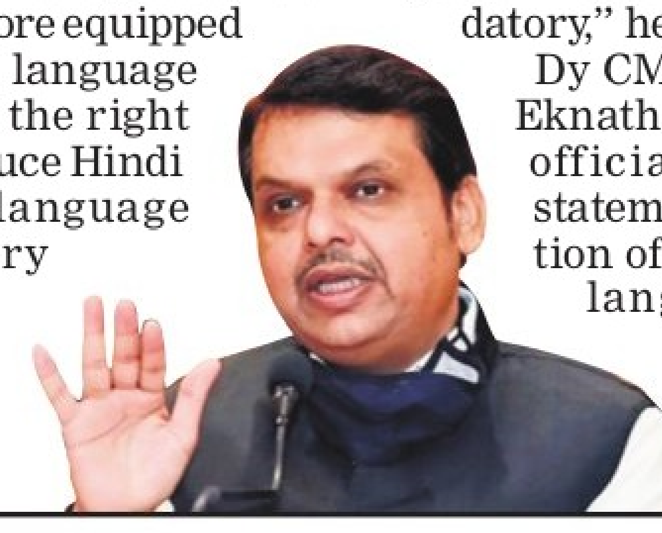
Deputy CMs remain mum on imposition

Deputy CMs Ajit Pawar and Eknath Shinde have not officially made any statements over the imposition of Hindi as a third language. Sources said they are not keen to push the language, fearing that their government may be labelled 'anti-Marathi'.

He added that as per research, students aged between 2 and 8 are more equipped to learn any language fast, so it is the right age to introduce Hindi as a third language from primary schools.

"Marathi is taught from Class I, so also English. We are ensuring that while introducing Hindi as a third language, Marathi will not lose its importance and Marathi culture will not be undermined," the minister said.

Earlier, Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis said that they will speak with all stakeholders and then introduce Hindi as a third language in schools. "We are making an effort to ensure that students should not lag behind in competition. Therefore we are introducing Hindi as the third optional language in schools. It is not mandatory," he said.



Dy CMs Ajit Pawar and Eknath Shinde have not officially made their statements over imposition of Hindi as a third language. Sources said they are not keen to push the language.

Iran warns US against further attacks after ceasefire

Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei's first public appearance since ceasefire was filled with threats directed toward the US, Israel

DUBAI

IRAN's Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei said on Thursday his country had delivered a "slap to America's face" with its strike on an American base in Qatar, and warned against any further US attacks in his first public comments since a ceasefire was declared with Israel after 12 days of war.

Khamenei spoke in a recorded video broadcast on Iranian state television, his first appearance since June 19. The 86-year-old looked and sounded more tired than he did only a week ago, speaking in a hoarse voice and occasionally stumbling over his words.

The more-than 10 minute speech by the supreme leader was filled with warnings and threats directed toward the United States and Israel. He downplayed Sunday's US strikes on three Iranian nuclear sites using bunker-buster bombs and cruise missiles, saying that US President Donald Trump — who said the attack "completely and fully obliterated Iran's nuclear program — had "exaggerated" its impact. "They could not achieve anything significant," he said.

The head of the U.N. nuclear watchdog, International Atomic Energy Agency Director Rafael Grossi, reiterated on Thursday that the damage done by Israeli and US strikes at Iranian nuclear facilities "is very, very, very considerable."

"I think annihilated is too much but it suffered enormous damage," Grossi told French broadcaster RFI.

Iran's Foreign Ministry spokesman, Esmail Baghaei, on Wednesday also conceded that "our nuclear installations have been badly damaged, that's for sure." Khamenei has not been seen in public since taking shelter in a secret location after the outbreak of the war June 13 when Israel attacked Iranian nuclear facilities and targeted top military commanders and scientists.

Following Sunday's U.S. attack on Iran's nuclear facilities, Trump was able to help negotiate a ceasefire that came into effect on Tuesday. Khamenei claimed the US had only intervened in the war because "it felt that if it did not intervene, the Zionist regime would be utterly destroyed."

Since the ceasefire, life has been gradually returning to normal in Iran. AP

Families of remaining hostages hope for Gaza truce after the 12-day war

Liran Berman hasn't had much to keep hopeful over the 629 days of his twin brothers' captivity in Gaza. Ceasefire deals have collapsed, the war has dragged on, and his siblings remain hostages in the Palestinian enclave.

But the war between Israel and Iran, and the US-brokered ceasefire that halted 12 days of fighting, have sparked fresh hope that his brothers, Gali and Ziv, may finally return home.

With Iran dealt a serious blow over nearly two weeks of fierce Israeli strikes, Berman believes Hamas, armed and financed by Iran, is at its most isolated since the war in Gaza began, and that might prompt the militant group to soften its negotiating positions.

"Now it's the time to pressure them and tell them, look, you are on your own. No one is coming to your help. This is it," Berman said.

"I think the dominoes fell into place, and it's time for diplomacy to reign now." It's not just a diminished Iran and its impact on Hamas that gives hostage families hope.

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, riding a wave of public support for the Iran war and its achievements, could feel he has more space to move toward ending the war in Gaza, something his far-right governing partners oppose.

Israel's opposition leader on Thursday criticised US President Donald Trump for saying Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's long-running corruption trial should be cancelled, warning him against interfering in internal affairs.

Trump on Wednesday described the case against Netanyahu as a "witch hunt", echoing the Israeli premier's dismissal of the corruption charges which he has flatly rejected. Hamas has repeatedly said it is prepared to free all the hostages in exchange for an end to the war in Gaza.

Over the past four decades, Iran built up a network of militant proxy groups it called the "Axis of Resistance" that wielded significant power across the region, including Hezbollah in Lebanon, the Houthi rebels in Yemen, and militias in Iraq and Syria. The World Health Organisation said Thursday that it had delivered its first medical shipment into Gaza since March 2, adding though that the nine truckloads were "a drop in the ocean". AP/AFP

Death toll from Israeli fire increases to 56

Gaza City: Gaza's civil defence agency said Israeli forces killed 56 people in the war-ravaged Palestinian territory on Thursday, updating a previous toll of 35. Civil defence spokesman Mahmud Bassal told AFP that 56 people were killed by Israeli fire across Gaza, including six who were waiting for aid in two separate locations.They included "four who were waiting for humanitarian aid," he added. The military did not respond to an AFP request for comment.

US pulls funds from global vaccine group: health secy

LONDON

US Health Secretary Robert F Kennedy Jr says the country is pulling its support from the vaccines alliance Gavi, saying the organisation has "ignored the science" and "lost the public trust."

A video of Kennedy's short speech was shown to a Gavi meeting in Brussels on Wednesday, where the organisation that has paid for more than 1 billion children to be vaccinated through routine immunisation programmes was hoping to raise at least $9 billion for the next five years.

Kennedy, a longtime vaccine skeptic, mentioned Gavi's partnership with the World Health Organisation during COVID-19, accusing them of silencing "dissenting views" and "legitimate questions" about vaccine safety. His speech also cast doubt on the diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis vaccine — which WHO and other health agencies have long deemed to be safe and effective.

Gavi said in a statement Thursday that its "utmost concern is the health and safety of children," adding that any decision it makes on vaccines to buy is done in accordance with recommendations issued by WHO's expert vaccine group.

Some doctors in the United States criticised the decision. Dr Paul Offit, director of the Vaccine Center at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia, said it was "incredibly dangerous" and warned that defunding immunisation would put millions of children at risk.

Gavi is a public-private partnership including WHO, UNICEF, the Gates Foundation and the World Bank, and it is estimated that the vaccination programs have saved 18 million lives. The United States has long been one of its biggest supporters; before President Donald Trump's re-election, the country had pledged $1 billion through 2030. AP

Pushback after leaked intel reports claim partial damage to Iran N-plants

Pete Hegseth

WASHINGTON

DEFENSE Secretary Pete Hegseth and Gen Dan Caine held a Thursday morning news conference to respond to an early leaked intelligence report suggesting US strikes against Iran likely put the country back mere months.

President Donald Trump has insisted the US strikes delivered a "devastating" attack and that questioning his assessment of the strike was not only unpatriotic but also makes the pilots who dropped the bombs "very upset."

Drawing reliable conclusions about the impact of the US strikes is difficult only days after they took place.

Senators are set to meet with top national security officials Thursday as some lawmakers question Trump's decision to bomb three Iranian nuclear sites and whether those strikes were ultimately successful.

The classified briefing, originally scheduled for Tuesday, also comes as the Senate is expected to vote this week on a resolution that would require congressional approval if Trump were to order another strike on Iran.

Trump's fights with the intelligence community were a running theme of his first term as he raged against an investigation into his campaign's alleged links to Russia.

An early US intelligence assessment said Iran's nuclear program has been set back only a few months after American strikes on three sites last weekend. AP

Cybercrime Centre Gets Expanded Role

The Madani government will expand the National Scam Response Centre to cover all cybercrime. A 24-hour nationwide response network and improved inter-agency coordination are planned. PM Anwar cited 4.7 billion scam attempts since 2022 and urged fast-tracked reforms to better protect the public and simplify reporting.

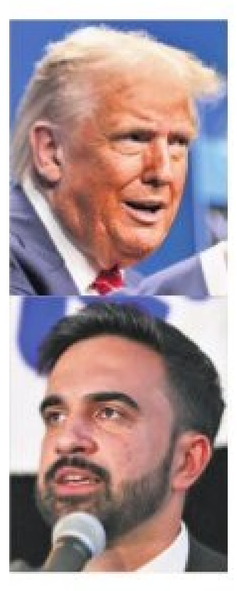
Trump throws shade on Zohran Mamdani following Cuomo's defeat

NEW YORK

THE US president Donald Trump lashed out at Zohran Mamdani after the democratic socialist's surprise trouncing of former New York Gov. Andrew Cuomo in last night's Democratic primary in the city's mayoral race.

"It's finally happened, the Democrats have crossed the line," Trump wrote in a social media post, bashing Mamdani, as "a 100% Communist Lunatic." "We've had Radical Lefties before, but this is getting a little ridiculous," he went on adding: "He looks terrible, his voice is grating, he's not very smart." National Republicans have been pointing to Mamdani's far-left positions like city-run grocery stores as a further sign that the Democratic Party is out of touch with Americans.



Donald Trump and Zohran Mamdani

Meanwhile, Mamdani, in a clip of an interview released by WABC-TV on Wednesday, started turning his attention Adams, criticising the incumbent's record and warm relationship with Trump. "We've been told time and again that through his collaboration, he could protect our city. But we do not see that protection," Mamdani said of Adams and Trump. Mamdani has claimed victory over a wounded, but still formidable former Gov Andrew Cuomo in New York City's Democratic mayoral primary.

Now he faces an equally tough task: Defeating Mayor Eric Adams and a Republican opponent — and maybe even Cuomo again — in the general election, while fending off critics who argue the 33-year-old democratic socialist is too far to the left. While the results have yet to be finalized, Mamdani had a commanding lead that will be exceedingly difficult for Cuomo to overcome when the vote count resumes July 1 in New York City's ranked choice voting system. Mamdani's likely win was a political lightning bolt — partly because of the stunning upset of New York's once all-powerful former governor, but also for the signals it sent about what kind of leader Democrats are gravitating toward following the party's bruising loss to Republican President Donald Trump last year. . AP/AFP

EU leaders will meet to discuss Russia sanctions, US tariffs, Middle East issues

BRUSSELS

THE heads of the European Union's 27-member nations will meet Thursday in Brussels to discuss tougher sanctions on Russia, ways to prevent painful new US tariffs, and how to make their voices heard in the Middle East conflicts.

Most of the leaders will arrive from a brief but intense NATO summit where they pledged a big boost in defense spending, and papered over some of their differences with U.S. President Donald Trump.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy will join the EU summit by videoconference, after meeting Trump on Wednesday. U.S.-led NATO downgraded Ukraine from a top priority to a side player this week, but Russia's war in Ukraine remains of paramount concern for the EU. Members will be discussing an 18th round of sanctions against Russia and whether to maintain a price cap on Russian oil, measures that some nations oppose because it could raise energy prices.

Meanwhile, Trump's threatened tariffs are weighing on the EU, which negotiates trade deals on behalf of all 27 member countries. He lashed out at Spain on Wednesday for not spending more on defense and suggested yet more tariffs. France's president called Trump to task for starting a trade war with longtime allies.

European leaders are also concerned about fallout from the wars in the Middle East, and the EU is pushing to revive diplomatic negotiations with Iran over its nuclear programme. AP

North Korea to open major tour site despite foreign limits

SEOUL

NORTH Korea next week will open a signature coastal tourist site that it says will usher in a new era in its tourism industry, though there is no word on when the country will fully reopen to foreign visitors.

The Wonsan-Kalma coastal tourist zone has hotels and other accommodations for nearly 20,000 guests who can swim in the sea, engage in sports and recreation activities and eat at restaurants and cafeterias on site, state media said.

North Korean leader Kim Jong Un toured the site and cut the inaugural tape at a lavish ceremony Tuesday, the official Korean Central News Agency reported Thursday.

Kim said its construction would be recorded as "one of the greatest successes this year" and called the site "the proud first step" toward realizing the government's policy of developing tourism, according to KCNA. The Wonsan-Kalma beach resort is North Korea's biggest tourist site. KCNA said North Korea will begin service for domestic tourists next Tuesday. It didn't say when North Korea will start receiving foreign tourists, but Russian officials said later Thursday that the first Russian tour to the site will happen in July.

Observers say the resort likely required a huge investment from North Korea's limited budget, so it eventually will have to accept Chinese and other foreign tourists too to break even. AP

BOAT CAPSIZES; 3 SOCCER PLAYERS STILL MISSING

A boat carrying 13 soccer players capsized near Selat Nenek Island, Batam. Ten survivors swam to safety after eight grueling hours in the water and have since been reunited with their families, relieved but shaken. Three players remain missing: Muhammad Fahri Kurniawan, Fadli alias Papat, and Firdaus alias Fir. Search and rescue teams, local police, and fishing communities continue intensive searching. The team was heading to Setokok Island to participate in a special match celebrating Indonesia's 80th Independence Day.

DEFYING tariff and geopolitical tensions, domestic equity benchmarks, the BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty, have surged nearly 15% each from their early-April lows and are now approaching record highs.

Extending gains for the third consecutive session on Thursday, the Sensex jumped 1,000.36 points (1.21%) to close at 83,755.87, while the Nifty50 rose 304.25 points (1.21%) to settle at 25,549.00.

The Sensex now sits just 2,200 points shy of its all-time high of 85,978, and the Nifty is within 730 points of its peak (26,277). The market had nosedived between late March and early April after U.S. President Donald Trump announced a reciprocal tax on goods imported into the world's largest economy. The move stoked fears of an all-out global trade war, with retaliatory tariffs announced by China, the EU, and others. On April 7, the Sensex had plunged about 4,000 points intraday to hit a 52-week low of 71,725 and the Nifty 50 tumbled 1,150 points to hit a low of 21,744.

While global markets grappled with tariff pressures, India's equity market staged a swift recovery, buoyed by robust institutional inflows and resilient macroeconomic indicators. The benchmark indices demonstrated remarkable stability even during heightened tensions between India and Pakistan following 'Operation Sindoor' in early May.

With the global tensions easing, particularly the Iran-Israel ceasefire after 12 days of intense conflict, the rally has gained momentum. Over just the past three sessions, the Sensex surged 1,859.08 points (2.27%) while the market capitalisation of BSE-listed firms expanded by a staggering Rs 9.70 lakh crore, reaching Rs 457.52 lakh crore.

Vishnu Kant Upadhyay, AVP - Research & Advisory, Master Capital Services said that the easing of geopolitical tensions, declining oil prices, and the RBI's accommodative policies have created a favorable environment for Indian equities. The recent calming of these tensions has allowed markets to focus on domestic fundamentals, contributing to the rally.

"A potential India-US trade deal, expected to be negotiated by July 9, 2025, could further enhance market sentiment if successful. Initial sentiments look positive and technically, we expect prices to reach towards 25800-26000 (Nifty) in the near term," stated Upadhyay.

In Asian markets, Japan's Nikkei 225 index settled higher, while South Korea's Kospi, Shanghai's SSE Composite index and Hong Kong's Hang Seng ended lower. European markets were trading in the green. US markets ended on a mixed note on Wednesday.

Rupee jumps 40 paise to 85.69 on softening dollar

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

The rupee on Thursday gained as much as 40 paise to close at 85.69 to the greenback due to softening dollar and a bullish equity market on easing geopolitical tension in West Asia.

A declining dollar index aided the unit, which had closed at 86.09 on Wednesday. With Thursday's rally, the local currency has depreciated by only 0.15% so far this month, yet is among worst-performing currencies in Asia. The unit opened the day at 85.92 and as market sentiment improved continued to gain through the session and closed with 40 paise gains at 85.69.

The dollar index fell below 97.00 mark as Israel-Iran ceasefire held on for the second day, a trader said, adding falling crude prices and a weaker dollar provided support to rupee.

8 large IPOs, 30 SME issues raise ₹19,000 cr in June

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @Mumbai

PRIMARY market activity rebounded in the second half of June with eight large IPOs, led by the HDB Financial's ₹12,500 crore issue, and as many as 30 SME issues hitting the street, raising over ₹19,000 crore.

Eight mainboard IPOs have collectively raised nearly ₹17,700 crore (HDB is ongoing and closes on Friday and all other issues have been closed), the highest monthly fundraising via IPOs in the past six months. In the SME segment, the month saw as many as 30 IPOs, raising about ₹1,330 crore, a nine-month high. The SME space activity is interesting as there has been a lot of regulatory tightening after several incidents of fund misuse and price-rigging at the pre-issue level by promoters and i-bankers.

Sebi regulatory timelines
Analysts attribute the surge in IPOs to regulatory timelines imposed by Sebi, prompting companies to expedite listings to avoid re-filing amid market uncertainty

Analysts attribute the surge in IPOs to regulatory timelines imposed by Sebi, prompting companies to expedite listings to avoid re-filing amid market uncertainty. The mainboard IPOs are ₹12,500 crore issue from HDB Financial Services, making it the largest-ever IPO in non-banking financial companies space, followed by Kalpataru Projects (₹1,590 cr) and Oswal Pumps (₹1,387 cr). The HDB issue, which opened on Wednesday, comprises ₹10,000 crore in offer for sale by HDFC Bank and ₹2,500 crore in fresh issue.

The other issuers include Ellenbarrie Industrial Gases (₹852 cr), Sambhv Steel Tubes (₹540 cr), Arisinfra Solutions (₹500 cr), ₹200 crore issue from Indogulf Cropsciences, and Globe Civil Projects' ₹119 crore issue. Together these companies have raised ₹17,688 crore from the market.

Among the largest SME issues are Safe Enterprises Retail Fixtures (₹161 cr), Pushpa Jewellers (₹94 cr), Monolithisch India (₹82 cr), Neetu Yoshi (₹74 cr), Patil Automation (₹66 cr), Sacheerome (₹58 cr), Cedaar Textile (₹58 cr), and Influx Healthtech (₹56 cr), among others.

Earlier in the year, the IPO activity had slowed considerably due to weak sentiment and escalating geopolitical tensions. Several companies, despite securing Sebi approvals, chose to defer their issues waiting for better market dynamics. However, improving macro indicators, including easing inflation and renewed foreign institutional investor inflows, have lifted sentiment from June. Despite the pickup in activity, investor response has remained largely subdued, weighed down by concerns over stretched valuations and muted earnings prospects.

'Global Capability Centres to generate value at 11-12% CAGR between FY25-29'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

GLOBAL Capability Centres (GCCs) have evolved into-cost conscious innovators and will generate value at 11-12% CAGR between FY 2025-29, according to PwC's latest report.

GCCs have generated value at a weighted average CAGR of 10-11% during FY-20 to FY24 for their respective headquarters. The report points out that the CAGR of value creation would be in excess of 14–15% with complete alignment between the GCCs and their respective headquarters.

India currently has more than 2,975 GCC units. It said that today GCCs in the country have matured as cost-conscious innovators and multifunctional CoEs (centres of excellence). They are fast becoming central to their headquarters' growth strategy.

The report mentioned that with the ongoing global supply chain and trade tensions, alignment between headquarters and their GCCs has become strategically important to maintain and enhance the strategic and operational competitiveness of headquarters.

Sanjeev Krishan, Chairperson, PwC in India, said, "In the context of India's growth story, it is important for GCCs and their HQs to co-create a shared definition of value, invest in joint decisions, and build a culture of collaboration. GCCs must see complete alignment with their HQs - not as a one time fix, but as a sustained leadership imperative." The report also reveals that India will continue to be a premier destination for setting up GCCs.

Raghav Narsalay, Partner and Leader – Research and Insights Hub, PwC India said, "Indian GCCs are uniquely positioned to become engines of dynamic value creation." He added the need to build GCC parks and to develop Tier 2 locations to become mature GCC hubs." The report highlights that a common set of services that are top priority for the headquarter and GCC leadership of product as well as services-based companies in their future phase of growth during FY25-29 include digital transformation and innovation, and research and development.

India to remain premier GCC destination

The report said with the ongoing global supply chain and trade tensions, alignment between headquarters and GCCs has become important to enhance strategic and operational competitiveness. The report said India will continue to be a premier destination for setting up Global Capability Centres.

Steep increase in price, geopolitical tension dampen housing sales in Q2

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

A relentless rise in property prices, coupled with geopolitical tensions including Operation Sindoor, impacted housing sales across India's top 7 cities in the second quarter (Q2) of 2025. As per Anarock data, housing sales fell 20% year-on-year with 96,285 units sold in the quarter against 1,20,335 units in Q2 2024. However, housing sales rose 3% Quarter-on-quarer.

Average residential prices rose by 11% in top 7 cities. National Capital Region (NCR) led the pack in Q2, 2025 with a 27% YoY surge and a 4% quarterly rise in residential prices. Bengaluru followed with a robust 12% annual rise. "The second quarter of 2025 was a rollercoaster for Indian housing market, rocked by major military actions at home and abroad. The war-like climate pushed homebuyers into wait-and-watch mode, compounding the impact of soaring property prices over past two years. With domestic tensions easing and the RBI's repo rate cut injecting fresh optimism, buyer sentiment is rebounding," said Anuj Puri, chairman of Anarock Group.

He added,"Despite a 20% YoY dip in sales across top 7 cities, a 3% uptick this quarter signals renewed momentum. With home loan rates softening and developers largely holding prices steady, the stage is set for a potential upswing in housing sales in the coming quarters."

Puri believes if prices remain in check, housing sales across major cities may accelerate in the coming quarters.

Mumbai Metropolitan Region (MMR) and Pune accounted for 48% of total sales in top 7 cities, with 46,685 units cumulatively sold in these cities in Q2, 2025. Sales fell 25% YoY in Mumbai and 27% each in Pune and Hyderabad. Chennai was only city to see a yearly rise (11%) in housing sales in Q2, 2025.

RBI's project finance norms to cushion banks against risk

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank's final directions on project financing will help strengthen the guardrails against risk and harmonise regulations for lenders besides easing credit cost concerns as they seek lower provisioning with prospective applicability.

The directions, which will come into effect from October 1, 2025, requires only 1-1.25% provisions from date of commencement of commercial operations (DCCO) of a project as against 5% proposed in the draft earlier.

The new guidelines cover both infrastructure and non-infrastructure projects, including commercial real estate and commercial real estate-residential housing and are applicable to banks, non-banking financial companies, housing finance companies, urban cooperative banks and all-India financial institutions.

Earlier, the draft guidelines had laid out very stringent provisioning norms, with 5% provisioning on all under-construction projects, which went up to as high as 7.5% in some scenarios. Even for operational projects, provisioning level was mandated at 1% or 2.5% depending on the extent of operating cash flows of the project

> Compared to draft of May 2024, final directions improve ease of doing business for lenders. The provisioning requirements are significantly lower for projects— Subha Sri Narayanan, director, Crisil Ratings

"Compared to the draft of May 2024, the final directions improve ease of doing business for lenders. The provisioning requirements are significantly lower not only in the case of under-construction projects but also for operational projects. Additionally, the guidelines are applicable only on a prospective basis. As a result, the impact on credit costs would be well below what was envisaged earlier," Subha Sri Narayanan, director with Crisil Ratings, said in a note on Thursday.

The removal of the proposed six-month limit on moratorium period after DCCO will benefit lenders, allowing them to continue to structure loans in line with the expected cash flows of projects," Narayanan said.

Standard asset provisioning for operational projects remains in line with the extant guidelines for banks and upper-layer non-banking finance companies, ranging from 0.4-1% depending on segment. However, provisioning requirements across categories remain de-linked from credit risk profile of individual projects, as indicated by credit rating. This is unlike extant capital requirements for bank lending to corporates, which are linked to credit risk profiles of the latter, the report said. The proposed provisioning requirements remain sector-agnostic even as various sectors may carry diverse levels of risks, including different levels of ultimate loss-given defaults.

Will not like to go for price increases wherever we can: Nestle India CMD

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

NESTLE India chairman & managing director Suresh Narayanan said on Thursday that going forward, the FMCG major will not like to go for price increases wherever it can. The company's call on price increase will depend on the commodity prices, as coffee, which is up 60-70% and is "very difficult to manage", he added.

The board of Nestle India approved the issuance of bonus equity shares in the ratio of 1:1 to its existing shareholders on Thursday. This is the first bonus issue after the year 1996, with subdivision of shares and NSE listing in 2024.

The outgoing CMD stated that commodity inflation, which impacted volume growth in the last few quarters, is coming down as prices are stabilising but the upcoming quarters should see things returning to normal. However, commodities like coffee, cocoa remain at "decadal highs and that clearly puts an enormous amount of pressure in terms of managing the penetration-led growth and the bottom line (margins) of the company," said Narayanan, while addressing his last Annual General Meeting (AGM) for Nestle India.

Narayanan, who addressed his 10th Nestle India AGM as Chairman, will retire on July 31, 2025 after serving 26 years, while Manish Tiwary, former Country Manager of Amazon India, will get the baton from August 1, 2025, as per the succession plan announced last year. He said that to mitigate the impact of food inflation, Nestle India took a series of cost-saving and efficiency initiatives. It also initiated price hikes, in a "responsible manner" to ensure that the volume is not impacted and category rules remain.

"There have been short-term pressures... But hopefully, we will be getting back to the normal stride in the coming quarters and months," he said. Narayanan added that the commodity inflation clearly has "cast its shadow on the overall evolution of the company's volume".

> There have been short-term pressures... But hopefully, we will be getting back to the normal stride in the coming quarters and months — Suresh Narayanan, chairman & managing director, Nestle India

India's natural gas output, consumption fall in May

ENS ECONONIC BUREAU
@New Delhi

The country's natural gas sector witnessed a dip across several key metrics in May 2025, according to the data released by the Petroleum Planning & Analysis Cell (PPAC).

Gross production of natural gas for the month stood at 2,979 million metric standard cubic meters (MMSCM), marking a 4.0% decline compared to the same period last year.

Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG) imports also saw a significant drop. Total LNG imports in May 2025 (provisional) amounted to 2,977 MMSCM, which is 15.3% lower than imports recorded in May 2024.

As a result, the natural gas available for sale during the month fell to 5,478 MMSCM, reflecting a 10.2% decreaseyear-on-year.

The total availability for consumption, including domestic production and imports, was 5,918 MMSCM. As per the report, sectors consuming natural gas included fertilizers (26%), city gas distribution (CGD) (23%), power (14%), refineries (8%), and petrochemicals (6%).

Industry sources noted that gas producing companies consume a portion of the output internally, and some gas is flared due to technical requirements.

After accounting for internal use and flaring, the net natural gas available for sale was nearly 83.9% of gross production in the month of May 2025.

The decline in both domestic production and Liquefied Natural Gas imports may raise concerns for the sectors reliant on a steady supply of natural gas, particularly as the demand continues to rise amid ongoing industrial and urban growth.

AstraZeneca expands global hub in Bengaluru

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

BIOPHARMACEUTICAL company AstraZeneca on Thursday announced the expansion of its global hub in Bengaluru with ₹166 crore investment. The new facility will house about 1,300 employees, including 400 new jobs.

This is AstraZeneca's second major investment in India within a year, following the expansion of its Global Innovation and Technology Centre (GITC) in Chennai. The combined workforce now at AstraZeneca India Private Limited (AZIPL) will reach close to 4,000 employees. The company said the new facility will serve as a dynamic hub dedicated to advancing AstraZeneca's critical priorities including advanced clinical research supporting AstraZeneca's global therapeutic areas; development of AI-powered; healthcare solutions and digital health technologies.

KYLIAN MBAPPE has accused his former club Paris Saint-Germain of moral harassment in a legal filing, the Paris prosecutor's office reportedly told a news agency as it confirmed an investigation had been opened. Mbappe is also embroiled in a court battle with PSG to obtain the 55 million euros in unpaid wages and bonuses he says the club owes him.

Coventry 'pauses' '36 Oly bid process, India meeting on

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

DAYS after new International Olympic Committee (IOC) president Kirsty Coventry took charge, an Indian delegation is set to reach Lausanne for a meeting to discuss its 2036 Olympics bid. The new IOC president said as much during a webinar after two days of Pause and Reflect meeting of the Executive Board that ended on Thursday. "I am aware that an Indian delegation will be here next week for a meeting," she told media on Thursday.

However, as for selecting the hosts, Coventry said the process would be re-evaluated. It was earlier believed that the 2036 Olympic host would be announced next year but it might take time. She said that after discussing with the IOC members, she felt that some kind of reassessment is required and paused the bidding process for the time being. This will affect all those host nations trying to secure the 2036 Games. As of now there are about eight to 10 bids including those by Indonesia, Turkey, Qatar and Saudi Arabia.

Interestingly, Brisbane Olympic Games was announced in 2021, on the sidelines of the Tokyo Games. This was the first host city under the new flexible approach for electing a host city through consultations and dialogues. This also encouraged using existing venues and making the Games and the bid more cost-effective and sustainable. On the other hand, the French Alps 2030 announcement was delayed until July 2024.

Coventry, on the upcoming visit of the Indian delegation, said: "They might be the first interested party for us to ask a couple of questions and to better understand from them. There won't be a specific pause on that but just on the entire process."

She felt the need to ensure that there is more membership engagement and also look at the timing: "When is the most appropriate time, when is the best time, when is the most effective time," she said. A working group is set to be formed to look into this. The bid is now expected to run for another two-three years. The India delegation or coordination committee for the 2036 Olympic Games will meet the staff of the Future Host Commission around July 1. Interestingly, though there is no official confirmation (with the IOC) about the host city, but going by the developments, Ahmedabad is set to be announced soon. The coordination committee has representatives from the Gujarat government. It is learnt that Gujarat state sports minister along with his principal secretary are part of the delegation. The Ahmedabad Municipal commissioner and the Gujarat's urban development ministry principal secretary too are among the members. From the Union sports ministry's side, newly-appointed secretary sports, Hari Ranjan Rao, will attend the meeting. IOA president PT Usha, Chief Executive Officer Raghuram Iyer and office executive too will be travelling to Lausanne. The IOC had earlier said that all communications have to come through the IOA.

However, things are not going well within the IOA. The IOA's majority of the executive council members are yet to reconcile with the IOA president after they revolted over the appointment of the CEO in January last year. Since then, there has been very little interaction between Usha and majority of the EC members. Because of this, there has been no official announcement of a bid committee which is considered essential for the bidding process. The IOC had earlier insisted that a strong National Olympic Committee is a must for a strong bid.

The Letter of Intent was submitted without a host city name in October. With this India had entered the next phase, that of continuous dialogue. This means, according to IOC's 'The Approach to Olympic Hosts Election', "it is a non-edition specific discussion; no commitment of either side; no obligation for the IOC to invite any Interested Parties to Targeted Dialogues".

The IOC had earlier told this daily that as of now, there are "interested parties from four continents discussing with the IOC in an informal and noncommittal way about hosting a future edition of the Olympic Games."

What to expect from Gill & Co at Edgbaston

Bumrah's workload may mean the premier pacer might be rested

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

Jasprit Bumrah bowled 43.4 overs across both innings during the first Test between India and England. There is a chance that he could miss out the second Test | AP

DURING the journey from England's north to the midlands, the Indian management will have been deep in thought with respect to the situation surrounding Jasprit Bumrah. He's the ultimate plug and play operator in world cricket but there's also the question about his workload.

The allure of a Lord's Test may see Bumrah missing out from featuring at Edgbaston in the second Test, beginning next Wednesday. Even otherwise, Edgbaston has become a very Bazball ground. Since the beginning of 2022, teams average over 35 while scoring at 4 runs per over (average below 29 and 3.72 are the corresponding Lord's numbers). So, the smart money is on the management giving their star pacer a break as they manage his workload and fitness. It's kind of understandable why they want to be extra careful with him: he's already had a couple of big injuries, with the one in Sydney coming earlier this year.

"I think for us to manage Bumrah's workload is more important because there's a lot of cricket going forward and we know that what he brings to the table as well," coach Gautam Gambhir had said after the first Test. "So before he came on this tour, it was already decided that he's going to play three Test matches, but let's see how his body turns up. But we haven't decided which two other Test matches he's going to play." If Edgbaston, the venue where Bumrah captained India in a Test in 2022, is where he will get one of his two breaks, the one obvious question pertains to the make up of the bowling unit. The closest like for like replacement in terms of taking the new ball is Arshdeep Singh but they are different bowlers. But that will just be the one of the many jigsaws the think-tank will have to think about.

Assuming the southpaw features, he will share the new ball with Mohammed Siraj, the bowler who has already led the attack multiple times in the absence of Bumrah. They can go down the route of Kuldeep Yadav replacing somebody like a Shardul Thakur. Akash Deep also can be considered. They badly missed a second genuine wicket-taking option in the first Test and considering India's stated aim is to be aggressive with the ball, Yadav makes a lot of sense. His left-arm wristspin can be tough to decode even on pitches not aiding spin. However, if they do go that route, they will run the risk of a batting line-up finishing with four No. 11s.

After twin failures, the visitors may be loath to do that. They may also consider bringing in Nitish Reddy in place of Thakur but the former is more of a batting all-rounder than a bowling at this point in time. However, bowling coach, Morne Morkel, has already spent a fair amount of time with the former on this tour. "I think he (Reddy) is skilful," the South African had remarked before the series began, "He is a guy who can bowl that magical ball. So for him, it is about creating that consistency, and that's something we want to work on. It's important for his game as well.

"I've had conversations with him where I've challenged him to bowl a bit more. We all know what he can do with the bat. But for a team, if you can have those bowling options, especially in these conditions, I think he'll be one to be excited and complement his bowling at that," he added.

The 22-year-old doesn't have Thakur's experience but the management have no qualms in giving him game-time. However, Reddy, who owns a bowling average of below 30 in first-class cricket, didn't even bowl an average of 10 overs per Test in Australia. If he does comes in place of the Thakur, there will be more asked of him in the bowling department.

When the tour began, the Indian team knew they had to answer a number of questions with regard to transition in the batting line-up. One week into the series, the bowling line-up is the one giving them sleepless nights.

Eng add Archer to squad for 2nd Test

BIRMINGHAM: England added pacer Jofra Archer to their squad for the second Test. Archer has struggled with injury to his bowling arm for some time. "The 30-year-old right-arm quick returns to the England Test set-up for the first time since February 2021 and will be looking to add to his 13 Test caps at Edgbaston next week," the ECB said.

Please hit double tons: Ashwin to Rishabh

NEW DELHI: India should focus on extending their batting time and Rishabh Pant must convert his hundreds into double centuries against an "average" England attack, said senior off-spinner R Ashwin. "One thing that the Indian team's batting can focus on is in every innings, can you extend your batting with time — not by runs..."

BOXERS NIKHAT, LOVLINA SET TO RETURN TO ACTION

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

INDIAN boxing will soon witness some high-profile bouts with marquee names like Nikhat Zareen and Lovlina Borgohain set to return to action. As reported by this newspaper last month, the two star pugilists, along with several other elite names including Paris Olympian Preeti Sai Pawar, will be taking part in the Elite Women Boxing Tournament, which is scheduled to begin from June 27 to July 1 in Hyderabad.

This will be Nikhat's first competitive action since the Paris Games. The double world champ, along with Preeti, had taken part in a 17-day exposure tour in Tashkent, Uzbekistan last month. Upon their return to the country, the duo have been training in Inspire Institute of Sport, Bellary and were expected to travel to Hyderabad for the aforementioned event, which holds quite a lot of significance.

The event, organised by the Telangana Boxing Federation under the aegis of the Boxing Federation of India (BFI) and the Sports Authority of Telangana, is a pathway for those boxers who were unable to take part in the national championships which was conducted in Greater Noida earlier this year. As per the selection policy, the national championship is the main pathway for the boxers aspiring to be part of the national camp. The gold and silver medallist in the upcoming event will be included in the national camp. And based on the boxers performances in the said camp, a team for the upcoming World Championships and other key events will be picked.

Nikhat Zareen

Lovlina Borgohain

"This tournament is not just a pathway into the elite national camp, it is also a way to build bench strength and discover new talent. We are confident that the new domestic structure will empower Indian boxing and help maintain its momentum on the global stage," Ajay Singh, BFI president and chairman of Interim Committee, was quoted as saying in the official announcement of the tournament. Nikhat, meanwhile, will be taking part in the 51kg category instead of 50 as the former is one of the updated weight categories in the Olympic programme.

Lovlina is also expected to change her weight category due to the revision of Olympic categories. Having made 75kg her own in recent years, she'll be forced to opt for either 70kg or +80kg. She might opt for the former as she was formerly a welterweight (69kg).

The tournament is expected to feature boxers from 15 units, including some of the best teams from the 8th Elite Women's Nationals — Railways, Haryana, All India Police, Services, Punjab, Chandigarh, Uttar Pradesh, Delhi, Rajasthan, Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu — alongside host Telangana, the Combined SAI National Centre of Excellence team, and the TOPS Core & Development squad.

Indian squash team displays gold mettle in Asian Doubles C'ships

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

Velavan Senthilkumar (top L) & Abhay Singh bagged the men's doubles title; Joshna Chinappa (bottom R) & Anahat Singh won the women's doubles title

IN a historic achievement, the India squash team persevered to complete an unprecedented three gold medal sweep in the men's, women's and mixed doubles at the Asian Doubles Championships in Kushing, Malaysia, which concluded on Thursday. This gold medal hattrick has never been done before at any Asian or any World doubles squash championships.

In an intense men's doubles match, Abhay Singh and Velavan Senthilkumar saw off the threat of Noor Zaman and Nasir Iqbal of Pakistan. Despite losing the first game 9-11, Abhay and Velavan responded in well to recover. With better length, discipline and court coverage, they outpaced the Pakistani pair in the second and third games. The 88-minute long match saw the Indian duo dominate long rallies forcing the Pakistan pair into unforced errors.

Veteran Joshna Chinappa and young sensation Anahat Singh had a tough start in the women's doubles final, losing the first game to top guns Amani & Xin Ying Yee of Malaysia. After winning the second, they saw themselves 5-9 down in the deciding game. They displayed mental resilience and equalised the game before securing the match.

Rounding off a golden day for India, Abhay teamed up with the teen Anahat to deliver a strategic masterclass in the mixed doubles final. Despite Abhay having already played a tiring 88-minute match, the pair maintained sharpness, consistently placing the ball into tough corners and forcing errors from their Malaysian pair Ameeshenraj Chandran & Rachel Arnold.

Cyrus Poncha, Secretary of the Squash Rackets Federation of India, lauded the performances. "It is certainly a good move to have the National Doubles meet a month before this meet to ascertain the best athletes," said the former coach. The men's doubles final, according to Poncha was a nail-biting affair. "The game went on for almost an hour and a half. The Pakistanis gave a tough fight, and it went down to the wire," he said, adding that the long rallies were a joy to watch. Poncha said that this victory is a pre-cursor to next year's Asian Games. "The goal would be to repeat this feat next year. I am sure that the players will be fired up to perform there," he signed off.

Results (finals): Men's doubles: Abhay/Velavan bt Noor/Nasir (Pakistan) 9-11, 11-5, 11-5; Women's doubles: Joshna/Anahat bt Amani/Xin Ying Yee (Malaysia) 8-11, 11-9, 11-10; Mixed doubles: Abhay /Anahat bt Ameeshenraj/Rachel (Malaysia) 11-9, 11-7.

CLUB WORLD CUP

All four Brazilian clubs in last 16

AGENCIES @ Sao Paulo

Fluminense drew 0-0 with Mamelodi Sundowns to advance to pre-quarterfinals | AFP

ONE clear and unexpected force has surged as the group stage of the Club World Cup comes to a close: Brazil. Flamengo, Palmeiras, Botafogo and Fluminense — all Copa Libertadores winners in recent years — have advanced to the second round. All offered tough competition to the powerful European clubs, and all have excited tens of millions of fans at home. There is renewed hope for Brazilian fans after years of defeats against European teams in FIFA competitions.

Flamengo and Palmeiras topped their groups. Flamengo stunned Chelsea 3-1 to be the first team to qualify for the knockout rounds. Botafogo, which shocked Champions League winner Paris Saint-Germain, and Fluminense qualified in second place.

Botafogo and Palmeiras will face off Saturday, a game which guarantees at least one Brazilian club a spot in the quarterfinals. Flamengo take on Bayern Munich on Sunday and Fluminense will face Inter Milan on Monday. Corinthians were the last Brazilian club to win the world club title, beating Chelsea in 2012. That tournament format was much smaller than the current 32-team competition which features clubs from five continents.

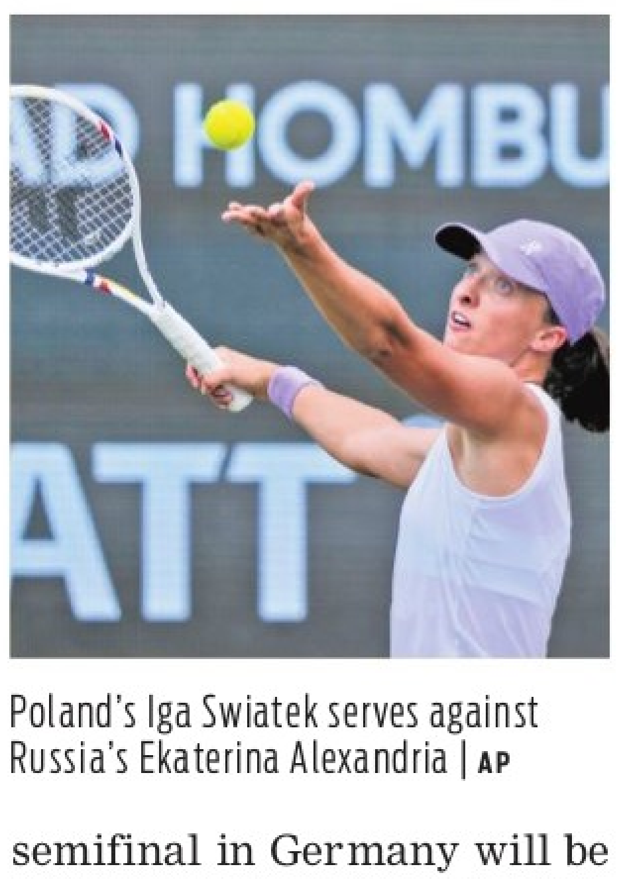
New optimism

Copa Libertadores champion Botafogo produced the biggest group-stage upset with the June 19 win over PSG. Before that encounter, Brazilian fans and soccer pundits expected the French club to bulldoze the carioca side, which has had ups and downs this year. "Botafogo was the team that best defended against us in the entire season," PSG coach Luis Enrique said. Results: Dortmund 1-0 Ulsan; Mamelodi 0-0 Fluminense; Monterrey 4-0 Urawa Reds; Inter 2-0 River Plate.

TENNIS ROUND-UP

Swiatek to face Paolini in Bad Homburg semis

AGENCIES @ Bad Homburg (Germany)



Poland's Iga Swiatek serves against Russia's Ekaterina Alexandria | AP

FIVE-TIME Grand Slam winner Iga Swiatek is one match away from her first ever grass-court final after downing Ekaterina Alexandrova 6-4, 7-6 (5) in Thursday's quarterfinals at Bad Homburg.

The former World No 1 will now face last year's Wimbledon finalist Jasmine Paolini in the semis on Friday, the Italian progressing with a 7-5, 7-5 defeat of Beatriz Haddad Maia. For Swiatek, 24, this is her second appearance in a grass-court semi-final, the first coming at Bad Homburg two years ago.

For the Polish winner of the French Open in 2020, 2022-24 and US Open in 2022 this is her first tournament on grass of the season, with Wimbledon starting on Monday.

Swiatek, beaten in the last four at Roland Garros three weeks ago, made it to the last eight at Wimbledon in 2023, her best result at the third Grand Slam of the year. Friday's other semifinal in Germany will be between top seed Jessica Pegula or Emma Navarro and Mirra Andreeva or Linda Noskova.

ICC introduces stop clock in new WTC cycle

DUBAI: The ICC, world cricket body, has introduced stop clock in Test cricket to deal with slow over rates while allowing fielding teams to decide which batter should be on strike in case of a 'deliberate' short-run as part of the playing conditions for 2025-27 World Test Championship cycle. The new rule came into effect from June 17.

VITAL COG IN INDIA'S ECONOMIC WHEEL

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU

THE micro, small and medium enterprises (MSME) sector is vital to any economy, and more so to ours' given their critical role in job creation and exports, thus serving as a major engine for overall economic growth, contributing significantly to the gross domestic product and manufacturing output and employment, while also fostering entrepreneurship and regional development, thus playing a crucial role in reducing unemployment both in rural and semi-urban areas.

There are more than 63 million MSMEs spread across the nook and cranny of the country, employing over 250 million, even though the average employee count in a typical MSME is only five who are both skilled and unskilled or semi-skilled. The best example of how these small enterprises thrive is Asia's largest slum cluster Dharavi in central Mumbai. World's leading luxury brands like Gucci and Armani source their wares from some units in this slum, while some others supply ballet shoes to the best of the Hollywood production houses. Again, the iconic Taj Hotel sources its silver cutlery from some units located in Dharavi, whose GDP is over ₹15,000 crore by some estimates.

Salient features of MSMEs

- Play a critical role in economic growth and development by leading the industrialisation drive, particularly in backward and rural areas. They promote entrepreneurship and innovation, leading to new products, services, and technologies.
- Play a key role in regional development and inclusivity by contributing to a balanced regional development by setting up businesses in rural and less developed areas. They also help reduce regional disparities and ensure a more equitable distribution of national income and wealth.

Resilience and adaptability

MSMEs have shown remarkable resilience during economic challenges, including during the deadly pandemic that hit the nation in early 2020 and took away the lives of at least 25 million.

The pandemic showed that their ability to adapt to changing market conditions and adopt new technologies is crucial for sustained growth.

MSMEs act as ancillary units to large industries, providing essential components and services, thus forming an integral part of the supply chain for various industries. They contribute humongously to export with as much as 45.73% of exports being MSME-related products.

The budget 2026 has introduced a series of measures aimed at strengthening the MSME sector, recognising their role as one of the key engines in our developmental journey alongside agriculture, investment, and exports. One key announcement in the budget was to raise their investment and turnover limits as well as their classification with a view to help them expand and improve efficiency. Their access to credit has also been eased with an increase in the credit guarantee cover for export-focused MSMEs along with startups. There is also a new scheme coming up to provide financial support to first-time entrepreneurs from disadvantaged backgrounds, while sector-specific initiatives are given to enhance productivity in areas such as footwear, leather, and toy manufacturing.

In fiscal 2024, MSME-related products accounted for as much as 45.73% of the country's total exports which stood at around $825 billion (over 60% of which came from services), reinforcing their role in manufacturing. The new budgetary provisions aim to build on this strong foundation by fostering innovation, enhancing competitiveness, and ensuring better access to resources. Through these steps, the government seeks to equip MSMEs with the tools needed to expand their reach and strengthen their contribution to overall economic growth.

The budget also increased the credit guarantee cover for MSMEs from ₹5 crore to ₹10 crore, enabling additional credit of ₹1.5 trillion over five years. Also, MSME exporters will benefit from term loans up to ₹20 crore with enhanced guarantee cover. Again, to help them further, the budget has announced a new customised credit card scheme providing ₹5 lakh in credit to micro enterprises registered on the Udyam portal, with 10 lakh cards set to be issued in the first year.

Another scheme for 5 lakh first-time women, Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe entrepreneurs was launched to provide term loans up to ₹2 crore over five years, incorporating lessons from the Stand-Up India scheme. In recent years, MSMEs have displayed remarkable resilience, with its share in the country's gross value added (GVA) increasing from 27.3% in fiscal 2021 to 29.6% in fiscal 2022 and further 30.1% in fiscal 2023, highlighting its growing role in national economic output.

Exports from MSMEs have seen substantial growth, rising from ₹3.95 trillion crore in fiscal 2021 to ₹12.39 trillion in fiscal 2025. The number of exporting MSMEs has also surged, increasing from 52,849 in fiscal 2021 to 1,73,350 in fiscal 2025.

MSMEs' contribution to total exports has been steadily growing, reaching 43.59% in fiscal 2023, 45.73% in fiscal 2024, and 45.79% in fiscal 2025. These trends underscore the sector's increasing integration into global trade and its potential to drive India's position as a manufacturing and export hub.

The government has been offering an array of initiatives aimed at bolstering the MSME sector, recognising their pivotal role in the economy. These efforts range from financial support and procurement policies to capacity building and market integration. Key initiatives include the Udyam registration portal, PM Vishwakarma scheme, prime minister's employment generation programme (PMEGP), scheme of fund for regeneration of traditional industries (SFURTI), and the public procurement policy for MSEs, all aimed at fostering entrepreneurship, enhancing employment, and integrating informal sectors into the formal economy. These initiatives reflect the government's commitment to supporting MSMEs and driving inclusive economic growth nationwide. PM Vishwakarma is fully funded by the central government with an initial outlay of ₹13,000 crore for 2023-24 till 2027-28.

Since its launch, this scheme has achieved significant milestones, with over 2.65 crore applications submitted and 27.13 lakh applications successfully registered. Registered applicants will undergo a 5-day 'basic training' programme, and those opting for credit support will receive collateral-free credit. These accomplishments highlight the scheme's early success in empowering artisans and craftspeople nationwide.

The MSME ministry has notified the public procurement policy for MSEs in 2012, mandating union ministries and departments, and central public sector enterprises to buy 25% of their annual procurement from MSEs. Within this 25%, 4% is reserved for MSEs owned by Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes, and 3% is reserved for MSEs owned by women entrepreneurs. Additionally, 358 items are exclusively reserved for procurement from MSEs. Accordingly in 2023-24, Central ministries, departments, and CPSEs procured a total of ₹74,717 crore worth of goods and services from MSEs, which constituted 43.71% of their total procurement. This policy benefitted 2,58,413 MSEs, ensuring they had access to significant business opportunities and support through government procurement.
